Gunboat Moves Up Yangtze Before In- sive Japanese Bomb- ; Fires Widespread.

ANGHAI, Dec. 10.—(Friday)
Radio reports from WUHU morning said Japanese forces broken through the city's defenses and were engaging the Chinese defenders in bloody street fighting.
Chinese defenders desperately fought to hold the important Yangtze river port, a key point in Nanking defenses 90 miles east.
Word was received of the of foreigners still in the city.
reports said there were 24
Americans there.

All Gates Shut.
gates in the massive walls of Nanking were reported shut. The Japanese army, with 100,000 men and for a final assault, had prepared an ultimatum demanding unconditional surrender.
General Iwane Matsui, commander-in-chief of all Japanese forces in the Shanghai-Nanking area, addressed the ultimatum to the Chinese government, saying that the Japanese army had assumed the defense of the city and that the Japanese navy was bombing the city.

Narrow Escape.
The U. S. gunboat, with United States embassy officials aboard, had its narrowest escape
when it arrived when Japanese planes raided the Nanking airfield and the Pukow railroad station.
Foreign sources said that Japanese columns had taken Chin-gung, capital of Kiangsu province, city, with a population of 150,
000, 40 miles east of Nanking.
The strategic Yangtze river certified that the Japanese army was said to have fallen after Japanese broke through its defenses and mopped up the Chinese in house-to-house fighting.
G. Howe, British charge d'affaires, arrived with an embassy party at Shanghai from Hongkong, to establish the embassy here.
Embassy officials made representations to Japanese officials seizing of a launch owned by British-owned Shanghai Tug Boat Company.

Plane Drops Ultimatum.
Japanese airplane, speeding over Nanking, dropped the communications, which said if the Chinese did not yield the city "will be the scene of the horrors of the past."

Keep Walls Clear.
Dispatches sent from Nanking Friday night said the Chinese were keeping the Japanese well away from the city's walls. Sixteen Americans remained inside Nanking; 15 were aboard the gunboat and a Standard Oil tanker near the city.

Chinese sources reported bitter fighting along the battle lines surrounding Nanking. The Japanese said to have sustained 2,400 casualties and Chinese troops were reported to have recaptured at least one village.

Eight Families Justify Faith Placed in Them by Atlantans

In One Short Year These Households, Selected in Ten Opportunities Drive, Work Selves Out of Miserable Plights to Road Leading to Security.

By LAMAR Q. BALL.
Just a year ago today, 10 Atlantans viewed life hopelessly. They lacked the bare necessities—food, clothing, shelter, warmth. They wanted to go on, but their paths were beset with discouraging obstacles.
Today, eight of those 10 families have worked themselves out of their miserable plights and are moving along the road to security, encouraged and determined.
Those eight cases illustrate what good was done by the money that Atlantans contributed a year ago to the 10 Opportunity Families.
Chosen for Courage.
Those families were selected for
The Constitution by the Family Welfare Society and they were selected because workers of that agency understood that those persons had the courage and the will to help themselves if someone else merely lifted them to their feet.
This year, 10 more Opportunities will be offered to Atlanta. Beginning Sunday, readers of The Constitution will be brought face to face each day with the problems of some one little family group, 10 of them in all, and all of them eager to continue life if someone will be good enough to help them over the top of this hill.
Just that little lift is all they want. They will go on from there, with their own strength, if Atlantans will, as it has so generously in the past, help them sweep the obstacles from their path right now, obstacles that threaten to disrupt their family unit.
Consider Mrs. M.
Just as an instance of what can be done, consider the case of Mrs.
M. and her three children, who were struggling hopelessly a year ago to find some means of continuing as a family.
Mrs. M., unable to get work, dreaded the prospect of having to lose her three children by surrendering them for adoption or to some institution where she would see little of them.
This little family was listed among the Ten Opportunities and today, Mrs. M. has made good on a full-time job, which takes care of her expenses.
The three children have been in school regularly and have had excellent school grades. The money which continued to come from the Opportunity Fund after the mother had landed her job, was used to buy necessary furnishings for the home, so that they are living comfortably, are happy and self-supporting.
Consider the case of the boy called "Warren."
Last year, he was a crippled boy lifted from the streets where he

WPA TO PROVIDE 350,000 NEW JOBS

U. S. Orders $23,000,000- a-Month in Spending as Aid to Employment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(P)—
The government ordered a $23-000,000-a-month increase in WPA spending today to cope with mounting unemployment.
Harry L. Hopkins, the works progress administrator, announced that work relief projects would be expanded within the next few weeks to provide 350,000 additional jobs.
His announcement increased speculation as to whether President Roosevelt's announced goal of a balanced budget in the next fiscal year could be achieved in view of the business recession.
Hopkins said he was not thinking at this time of asking a deficiency appropriation to supplement the $1,275,000,000 the President has budgeted for WPA this fiscal year, which ends next June 30.
Not to Exceed Sum.
The $23,000,000-a-month increase will come out of the $1-275,000,000. Up to now WPA has been spending at the rate of $100-000,000 a month, so that at the end of November, $500,000,000 had been spent, and $775,000,000 was left. Thus it was indicated that WPA could spend at the increased rate for a time without exceeding the sum the President budgeted for work relief.
Representative Ellenbogen, Democrat, Pennsylvania, urged that Congress appropriate half a billion more for the work relief agency, declaring:
"I'm convinced that regardless of business developments, the situation is such that we must have at least a half-billion more. I'm convinced the administration will ask for it soon."
Word that President Roosevelt still intended to balance the budget came, however, from Chairman Johnson, Democrat, Oklahoma.

Letter Written by Seminary Pupil Indicates That She Took Own Life

A letter found in a mail box by police and postal authorities indicated last night that Lynn Nutting, attractive 16-year-old schoolgirl, ended her life late Wednesday night while riding in an automobile with her "date."
As a result of finding the letter, which was located in a box at Peachtree street and Twenty-eighth street, Coroner Paul B.
Donohoe announced no inquest would be held into the death of the popular Washington Seminary student.
Contents of the letter were not revealed. Coroner Donohoe pointed out that the missive had not been introduced as evidence at a public hearing, and consequently was the private property of the addressee.
Miss Nutting, a brown-eyed brunet, was killed by a bullet fired from a .32-caliber pistol as

HOUSE COMMITTEE AGREES TO CHANGE WAGE-HOUR BILL

Drops Five-Man Board for Single Official; North Assures Dixie of Support of Plan for Lower Minimum Pay.

LEADERS PREDICT CLEAR MAJORITY

Smith To Offer Bill for Government to Buy Cotton to Force Price to 12 Cents.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(P)—
The house labor committee approved tonight an amendment to the wage-hour bill giving authority over the determination of minimum wages and maximum hours to a single administrator in the Labor Department.
By a vote of nine to six, it adopted a proposal by Chairman Norton, Democrat, New Jersey, to scrap the idea of a five-man administrative board. The latter type of administration has been approved by the senate.
Earlier in the day administration leaders passed the word that certain concessions offered to southern critics of the wage-hour bill had brought enough of them into line to provide an impregnable majority against any Republican effort to weaken the bill.
Industry Represented.
The single administrator would be directed to appoint a committee for each industry for which minimum wages and maximum hours are to be fixed. Employers and labor would have equal representation on this committee which, in turn, would select three members representing the public.
The entire group would go into all the factors involved and make recommendations about hours and wages to the administrator. The latter would be empowered to approve or reject their proposals.
If the administrator should reject the recommendations, the committee would reopen the entire question and, if, upon a second vote, it should persist in its original recommendations.

ROBERT PRINGLE, ARCHITECT, DIES

Designer of Number of Large Buildings Suc- cumbs After Long Illness.

Robert Smith Pringle, Atlanta architect and designer of a number of large buildings and residences here, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 804 Oakdale road. He was 54.
In bad health for the past three years, Mr. Pringle succumbed to a heart ailment following a few days' illness.
Educated in the public schools of Charleston and Columbia, S. C., and in Verner Academy, Columbia, he began his architectural practice in Columbia in 1902.
After five years in that city,
Mr. Pringle came to Atlanta and entered business for himself. Fifteen years passed and in 1922 he and Francis P. Smith formed the firm, Pringle & Smith, of which he was the senior partner.

LABOR BOARD SIFT ASKED OF SENATE

Burke Charges Favoring of One Union and Acts in Disrespect of Law.

Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, asked a senate investigation today of charges that the National Labor Relations Board had been guilty of "continuous and flagrant violation of the will of congress."
His resolution would authorize the senate judiciary committee to hold hearings on the board's administration of the Wagner labor act and recommend remedial legislation.
Charges specified in the resolution were that the board had "favored one type of union organization and opposed all other groups," had "intimidated" local public officials, witnesses, employers and workers, had ordered the cancellation of valid contracts in defiance of federal court decrees, had "violated the right of freedom of speech and freedom of the press," and that "its conduct has been such as to engender disrespect for law and order and increase dissent in industrial relations."

CHANGE IN LABOR LAW DEMANDED BY INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(P)—The National Association of Manufacturers closed its annual convention today with a call for sweeping revision of the Wagner labor relations act.
It adopted a program urging detailed revisions of the Wagner labor relations act designed to prevent sit-down strikes, minimize acts of violence and protect workers from coercion "from any source."
The program also condemned the closed shop, check-off and compulsory arbitration, and urged state and federal legislation to prohibit political contributions by either labor unions or business corporations.
Holding out for increased freedom from government interference in settlement of labor-capital disputes.

This Car Carried Four Blocks by Train--Driver Killed

Here's what happened last night when a speeding train and a speeding auto reached the same crossing at the same time. C. M. McIntyre, of 111 Clairmont avenue, East Point, driver of the car, was killed instantly when thrown from the wreckage. The car was carried four blocks. The train, Central of Georgia No. 4, was not damaged and continued its run to Savannah after the wreckage was cleared.

TRAIN HITS AUTO, KILLING DRIVER

C. M. McIntyre, East Point Salesman, Thrown 75 Feet Down Track.

C. M. McIntyre, about 50, of East Point, was killed instantly last night when a speeding southbound Central of Georgia passenger train collided with his automobile at the Lakewood and Main street crossing in the heart of downtown East Point.
The driver, who was alone, was thrown from the car to the right of way about 75 feet down the tracks from the crossing. The car was embedded on the cowcatcher of the engine, was taken about four blocks before the train was halted.
The car was demolished. Little damage to the engine was reported.
Terror Impact.
"There was a terrific impact when the train and car struck,"
W. L. Davis, cafe operator at East Point, said. "I ran out and helped pick up the man. He was dead.
The train was traveling about 45 or 50 miles an hour when it struck him."
Brewster West, flagman at the crossing, said he saw the car crash and ran out waving his red lantern and blowing his whistle, but to no avail.
"The driver apparently never saw me or the train," West said. "Both were traveling fast.
Number 4 was due here at 10:20 o'clock and was running a little late."
Stood in Auto's Path.
The signalman said he stood directly in the path of the oncoming train.
"McIntyre was mangled badly,"
Davis declared.
His brother, William M. R. Dodd, close friend of McIntyre, saw the wreck from his auto, not knowing it was his friend's car that was struck. Dodd stopped his car and ran to the scene, being the first to reach the demolished car.
"When I first saw the wreck, the engine was still pushing the car."

Deaths Mount To 90 as Cold Covers Nation

70-Mile Gale Whips Pacific Coast, Grounding Planes; 8 Die In Knoxville.

By the United Press.
Arctic winds from frozen Canadian prairies pushed an icy wedge across northern United States and into the deep south Thursday night, and weather observers offered no predictions for relief.
As the nation's initial cold wave continued unabated, its death toll rose to 90—caused by exposure, freezing, fire and highway accidents.
5 Die at Niagara.
Five died in one of the worst snowstorms of the Niagara frontier; five were killed in an automobile-train crash at Burt, Iowa;
a mother and her five children were burned to death in Oregon, Ill., and eight died at Knoxville,
Tenn., from overheated stoves.
A 70-mile-an-hour gale whipped the Pacific coast, cancelling all air flights east and north, and ships at sea reported mountainous waves. A message from the Far-allone Islands, off San Francisco's Golden Gate, told of a 50 miles an hour wind velocity and a fast-dropping barometer.
Hurricane Warnings.
Hurricane warnings flew from Monterey to Seattle, there were heavy rains, and the weather bureau reported that for the first time in history "whole gale warnings" were flown in San Francisco. Typhoon conditions were reported along clipper ship routes, and Pan-American Airways grounded ships at Honolulu and Manila.
The death toll in western Pennsylvania rose to eight. Three children were killed in coasting accidents. One person died in New Orleans from exposure.

Aunt Wins Control Of Freddie's Affairs

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—(P)— Miss Myrliecent Bartholomew, aunt and guardian of Freddie Bartholomew, instead of a bank, won complete control today over the 13-year-old film star's interests and affairs.
"I would like my aunt to have full control of the estate," he testified.
"My reason is very aptly illustrated by the fact," he continued,
"that while my aunt had charge of my affairs once before for a little over a year, she saved $20-000, but since the other parties have taken over the estate, it has depleted very rapidly."
The court asked whether he wished his family to share in his earnings.
"I would like very much to have my sisters provided for, so they may have their schooling," he said, "but I think father is well able to take care of himself."
Freddie nodded and smiled to his parents, but did not converse with them.

NEW BUS, TRUCK PROPOSAL VOTED

Plan to Reform State Gang System and Abol- ish Present Prison Com- mission Is Introduced.

Legalization of liquor under the Thomas bill now before the general assembly appeared doomed yesterday by an opinion of Attorney General Yeo: ans holding the bill unconstitutional.
The attorney general said the plan conflicts with the general state prohibition law and that there cannot be exceptions to the general law, which the Thomas bill provides.
Although the scheduled public hearing on the bill, together with the McGraw-Dunn bill providing for legalized manufacture, but
liquor, went on before the house temperance committee some members of the assembly said they doubted if the repeal plan would be pushed further. A number of members of the committee, including such wet leaders as Representatives Grayson, Chatham, and Groves, "some time next week" even attended the hearing and when it concluded hardly a quorum was present.
No Vote Taken.
No vote was taken on either bill. Chairman George Sabados announced he would call another meeting "some time next week" to conclude the business of the committee.
The ruling on the repeal program climaxed a busy day for the assembly, a day marked by the passage by the house of the new bus and truck bill, and the adoption by the senate of the Rivers administration's plan for helping carry the state departments through a debenture system. The bill approved by the senate now goes back to the house for concurrence in several changes.
The Rivers stabilization bill also was approved by the senate but the upper branch of the assembly turned down another administration measure, a bill to raise fees for county tax collectors and commissioners.
$3 Rate Abandoned.
The house voted, 154 to 20, to adopt the new schedule of tax rates, abandoning the flat $3 tag and also repealing the maintenance tax which has aroused opposition since the spring session.
The new scales range from $1.50 for tags for light cars to $2,000 for the heaviest buses and $1,000 for trucks of 10 tons or more which are not common or contract carriers.
A flock of amendments, some to raise fees on certain types of vehicles and some to lower farmers' trucks, were offered on the floor of the house but virtually all were rejected.

GALE HAMPER RESCUE OF MAROONED AUTOISTS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(P)— As an arctic wind hampered ef- forts to open roads obliterated by a three-day blizzard, four groups comprising more than 100 marooned of motorists prepared to spend another night in snow-bound storm havens near here.

wide battle this week. He sent a church, was instrumental in establishing the Tabernacle infirmary, which later became the Georgia Baptist hospital, and the Harriet Hawks Home for Women.

Broadway Baptist church, Knoxville, Tenn., with Dr. W. H. Ford and Dr. B. A. Bowers officiating. Burial will be in Knoxville.

Mr. Peacock served as pastor of Buckhead Baptist church for several years prior to his appointment as assistant pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, Knoxville, in 1913.

TOBACCO QUOTAS PROPOSED IN BILL

Two Important Changes Are Tentatively Approved by Senate Vote.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(P)—The senate tentatively approved today two important changes in tobacco control provisions of its farm bill, but rejected a third.

By a 36-to-34 roll call vote, it refused to agree to an amendment by Senator Bailey, Democrat, North Carolina, to limit the percentage of reduction that could be imposed on small growers.

Tentatively approved was an amendment by Senator Pepper, Democrat, Florida, to provide that no state marketing quota could be less than 80 per cent of its 1937 production.

Pepper's amendment was opposed by Senators Bailey and Byrd, Democrat, Virginia. Senator Ellender, Democrat, Louisiana, predicted it would be eliminated when the farm bill goes to conference.

Ellender said under the bill's provisions for quotas to be fixed on the basis of a five-year average production, allotments to states would be as follows:

Virginia 64,114,000 pounds; North Carolina 507,315,000; South Carolina 82,994,000; Georgia 63,310,000, and Florida 6,249,000.

But if Pepper's 80 per cent provision remains, the allotments would be as follows: Virginia 57-

368,000; North Carolina 4,000; South Carolina 5,000; Georgia 61,514,000, and 8,736,000.

The Duke of Richmond's six villages and 90,000 acres land have been purchased by British crown lands company "purely as an investment."

Take Full Use of the Oven During Christmas Shopping Days

Learn to make gingerbread the easy way, using a prepared mix, and you'll have it often since it is so popular with the kiddies and the men folks.

THREE MEALS A DAY

most homes that are without a Christmas shopping mean neglected meals at the dinner table. Inevitably, almost, for the wife who is downtown until late in the day; but hard on man of the house and other members who have spent long hours in business.

Instead of shopping until the minute go downtown early in the morning, right after breakfast, when the dishes are done, and come at 3:30 or 4 at the latest, the menu so that you can have an oven-cooked meal, then have time to lie down and awhile before dinner, while the dishes are slowly, safely cooking and surprise the family with delicious, hot, well-balanced

After you put the meat in the oven, turn your back on the kitchen and lie down for a little rest, take a warm bath if that rests you. Then toward the end of the cooking, when it needs stirring, you'll be up and out in the kitchen, with time to prepare vegetables and other details.

Vegetables. Serve some quickly prepared vegetables, such as rice potatoes, steamed tomatoes with the onion, shredded cabbage quickly in milk, or Spanish onions fairly thin and steamed in a saucepan, with the chops and baked sweet potatoes.

Veal Loaf. Have two pounds veal and one-pound fat salt pork chopped together. Mix well, add five heaped soda crackers, three tablespoons rich milk, one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice, two tablespoons salt, one-third teaspoon pepper, and a few drops onion juice.

Pack in a small bread pan, smooth, evenly on top, brush with white of egg. Bake slowly for two hours, basting with one-fourth cup pork fat and pricking the loaf so that the fat will be absorbed by the meat.

Remove from pan to a serving platter and serve with this mushroom sauce which you can make in a few minutes if you use canned mushrooms and ready-prepared meat-stock or bouillon. Or omit the sauce and serve with some piquant relish.

Mushroom Sauce.
1 can mushroom stems.
1-2 cup butter.
1-2 tablespoon lemon juice.
1-4 cup flour.
2 cups meat stock, salt and pepper.

Drain and rinse mushroom stems and mince one-half of them. Cook five minutes with butter and lemon juice. Drain. Brown the butter, add flour, and when well browned add the meat stock, while stirring constantly. Cook 15 minutes, skim, add remaining mushroom stems, cut in pieces, and cook two minutes longer. Season with salt and pepper.

Pork Chops Baked With Sweet Potatoes.

Peel three medium-sized sweet potatoes and slice crosswise. Place in a buttered casserole and sprinkle with salt, pepper, and a little brown sugar. Make layers until the potatoes are used, allowing one-fourth cup of brown sugar for the dish. Pour scalded milk over the potatoes until just covered. Place four pork chops on top, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 50 or 60 minutes. Remove cover, season with salt and pepper. Leave top off and bake until chops are tender and nicely browned.

Gingerbread. Gingerbread hot, spicy and delicious, in the "husky squares", is enjoyed by everyone. Today modern mothers use the prepared gingerbread mix—and turn it into a winning "foursome" to suit every taste.

The modern mix requires but the addition of one cup of water, a stir—and bake! The luscious squares shown here are served with whipped cream, with apple sauce, with fudge frosting and split and stuffed. Even the stuffing is easy! Cream cheese is moistened with a little cream and mixed with sliced pasteurized dates. Split the hot gingerbread, put the stuffing between the layers.

Quick Trick. Save yourself kitchen work and still serve bang-up meals by using ready-to-serve foods for quick feasts. Take spaghetti, for instance. It can be combined in any number of ways to make grand new dishes that will rank you among the experts. Sometime try combining 2 cups of diced cooked beef, 1 medium onion, finely minced, and 1 medium green pepper, chopped. Fry together in fat until brown and season with salt and pepper. Then for the triumphant touch add 1 21-ounce can of cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce. Stir in 1-4 cup of water and pour the whole delectable concoction into a buttered casserole. Top off with a few buttered bread crumbs for a crisp finish and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until brown. About 20 minutes will do the baking trick.

Salmon Timbales. Two tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons bread crumbs, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon parsley, chopped; 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 2 cups salmon, 2 eggs.

Melt butter, add crumbs and stir until well blended. Add milk, parsley, seasonings and stir until it thickens. Add fish, shredded and bones removed, and the eggs, well-beaten. Turn into individual molds or custard cups which have been thoroughly buttered. Steam until firm, or until a knife when thrust in the center comes out clean. Remove from molds and serve with white sauce.

A Quick Desert. Next time the dinner hour sneaks up on you without much special provender on hand, toss this dessert together from the staples on your pantry shelf: Beat 1 one egg, combine with 1-2 cupful pure apple butter, 1 cupful milk, 1-8 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cupful chopped nut meats, 1 dozen almond macaroons, broken into crumbles.

Pour into a buttered casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 35 minutes or until firm. Serve hot or cold. May be topped with whipped cream, too, if you like it luscious.

GOVERNOR SAVES LIFE OF MISSISSIPPI SLAYER

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 9.—(P)—Governor White today commuted the death sentence of William Clark Mitchell, 54, white man convicted of killing a negro, to life imprisonment.

The former World War army cook gained numerous court delays and executive reprieves after his conviction. The state charged Mitchell and his brother-in-law, James Arthur Cook, went to the farm cabin of Lewis Bryant and killed Bryant. Cook pleaded guilty after testifying against Mitchell and was sentenced to life imprisonment. He died in prison in January, 1937.

Eastman Man Files $2,999 Suit For Phone Call Tip-Off to Wife

Manifold Consequences Cited by Plaintiff, Who Charges Operator Permitted Spouse to Listen to Conversation With Another Woman.

EASTMAN, Dec. 9.—(P)—An Eastman man, charging a telephone operator advised his wife he was receiving a long distance call from a woman and permitted the wife to listen in on the conversation, filed suit for damages in city court.

Jessie May Dillard, deputy court clerk, said the suit was filed yesterday by Otis Whigham against the Southern Bell Telephone Company and asked $2,999 damages. The suit alleged the deputy clerk said, that Whigham was called by an Atlanta woman on October 25 and that an employee of the Eastman telephone exchange called Whigham's wife, informing her the call was coming and offering to permit her to hear the conversation.

The petition said Mrs. Whigham accepted the offer and as a result, "petitioner suffered severe nervous shock, debilitating petitioner's physical stamina, causing loss of weight, extreme anxiety, intense mortification, a disrupted domestic and marital status, mental and physical pain and suffering; his called by an Atlanta woman on tranquility and stability of his marital union has been shattered and he has suffered and will continue to suffer, all due to the willful, wanton and malicious acts of defendant and its employees." The suit may come up for trial at the January term of city court.

WPA IN GEORGIA TO BUY $330,000 IN MATERIALS

Construction material valued at $330,000 will be purchased by the Works Progress Administration before January 15 for use on construction projects in Georgia, Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state WPA administrator, announced yesterday. Miss Shepperson said an estimate has been made of material requirements for the next three months and purchases would be made between now and January 15 instead of waiting until the material is needed for the project. She said a request had been received from Washington asking for such an estimate.

Supplemental material purchases will be made during the next three months on items which cannot be purchased in advance, she said.

STRAP END URGED TO REPLACE COURT

Mayor Brands Correctional Agencies 'No Good.'

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Mayor Frank Hague said today he's going to close the juvenile courts and correctional agencies for children in Jersey City, N. J., "because they're no good."

His system of keeping children out of the hands of police and out of courtrooms is better for the very young, he said. If they don't learn a lesson by reasonable methods outside institutions, the end of a strap can teach them, the mayor asserted.

He outlined his system in an invitation appearance before the New York joint legislative committee on law enforcement. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, who appeared last week, had said:

"I don't know what laws Mayor Hague has over there in New Jersey or whether he has any laws. But we need the same thing."

F. D. R. VIEWS KEPT OUT OF GAS TRIAL

Moffett Testimony on Talks With Him on Fixing Prices Barred.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The appearance of James A. Moffett, oil company official and former national housing administrator, as a witness in the federal government's gasoline price-fixing case was cut short today.

The defense called Moffett, president of the California-Texas Oil Company and government member of the petroleum code committee during the NRA, from New York to tell of certain conferences with President Roosevelt in 1933.

On objection of government prosecutors, Federal Judge Stone ruled out any testimony regarding such conversations as hearsay. William J. Donovan, chief defense counsel, speaking in the absence of the jury, offered proof of what Moffett would have testified, including a statement that the president saw no objection at that time to the general fixing of petroleum prices, and that Moffett proposed a $1.10 a barrel price for crude oil.

Judge Stone, in ruling, commented that there already was testimony that a crude oil price of $1 was maintained at the insistence of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who was petroleum administrator under the code.

Fire Box Freezes And Plug Breaks, He Loses $20,000

BERLIN, Md., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Consider the reversals suffered today by G. Dale Harrison:

First, fire broke out in his office building. He drove half a mile to sound the alarm. The alarm was frozen. He looked for help, found only the night police chief. They drove the town's two fire trucks up Main street, sirens screeching, to arouse the volunteer fire fighters. Just one responded.

The three raced to the fire plug nearest the blaze. It was broken. They struggled to drag the heavy hose to the next plug. They couldn't.

So they rounded up the fire company in the trucks and sped back to the blaze. It was licking up the last of the $20,000 building.

Twenty minutes later, fire trucks from four neighboring towns arrived.

5 MEN AWAIT DEATH IN NEW GAS CHAMBER

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Five men who were the first to be sentenced to die in California's new lethal gas chamber, which replaces hanging, occupied separated cells today in San Quentin prison's condemned row.

The prisoners, Ed Davis, 35; Wesley E. Eudy, 33; Fred Barnes, 39; Robert Lee Cannon, 23, and Albert Kessel, 28, were sentenced in Sacramento yesterday for the murder of Clarence Larkin in an attempted break at Folsom penitentiary September 19.

GOVERNOR ADVISES G. O. P. ON POLICY

Millionaires and Professors Never Won Elections, Says Vermonter.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Governor George D. Aiken, a weather-beaten Vermonter, stepped into the middle of the national political scene today and gave the Republican party this tip:

"Millionaires and college professors never won elections." The Governor, who drew nationwide attention earlier this week by advocating a "purge" of the Republican leadership, talked with reporters at a press conference and later conferred with National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton, who has been seeking advice about the selection of a committee of 100 to formulate a new party program in St. Louis Monday.

Governor Aiken told reporters that most of the names he had seen mentioned for membership on the committee were those of millionaires or college professors, and added: "They never won elections."

The Vermonter declared he had little enthusiasm for the program committee idea anyway, and saw little value in an off-year national convention, such as Herbert Hoover and others have suggested. He said he accepted "in general" the welfare aims of the Roosevelt administration but wasn't advocating that the Republican party should move to the left. The nation, he said, may be getting a little "too welfare-conscious."

Asked about prospects for an anti-New Deal coalition, Aiken said he had met and liked many Democrats and found their viewpoints apparently coincided with him. He added that a coalition move would be all right, if it could be worked out.

If He Fears 13's, Writ That Freed May Also Worry

If Walter Jackson were suspicious of "unlucky thirteens," he'd be deeply concerned over the writ of habeas corpus which recently released him from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, court records revealed yesterday.

To begin with, his name contains 13 letters. He was released by Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood on November 13, and on November 13, the same day, the government appealed the case. His case number is 1313 and his register number is 50,233, the sum of the latter digits being 13. And to make things worse, he was indicted under section 283 of the code, the sum of these digits also making 13.

BANQUET TO CLOSE RED CROSS MEETING

Thomas W. Gosling, of Washington, to Address Delegates From 7 States.

A banquet and dance at the Piedmont hotel tonight will bring to a close the two-day conference here of Junior Red Cross delegates from seven southern states.

Principal speakers will be Thomas W. Gosling, of Washington, national director of the Junior group; Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of city schools; Jere Wells, superintendent of county schools, and Charles Miller, of New Orleans, who served as national chairman for the national convention of the organization held last year in Washington. Miss June Moore will preside.

Gosling opened meetings yesterday with a rally at the O'Keefe Junior High school. He spoke on "World Friendships." Talks also were made by Miss Katherine Mitchell, supervisor of the county schools; Miss Bertha Worthen, president of the Ajax Club and Earle Cocke Jr., chairman of the high school council of the Atlanta Junior Red Cross.

This morning Gosling and other officials will visit the David T. Howard school and this afternoon will be taken on a sightseeing trip to the cyclorama at Grant park.

'DEMENTIA AMERICANA' IS SLAYER'S DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 9.—Paul A. Wright, who was president of the Union Air terminal until a blazing gun took the lives of his wife and close friend exactly a month ago, pleaded insanity at a hearing today but his attorney indicated he was not abandoning an "unwritten law" defense, known generally as "dementia Americana."

"The defendant pleads that he is not guilty because he was insane at the time he is alleged to have committed the unlawful act," spoke up Jerry Geisler, defense attorney.

Wright summoned police to his home early the morning of November 9 and told them he shot his red-haired wife, Evelyn, and John Kimmel, also an airport official, when he found them embracing in the living room.

Judge Charles W. Fricke set the trial for January 13 in superior court. He appointed three alienists to examine Wright.

EXPERT TO CONDUCT TRAFFIC SURVEY HERE

Police Lieutenant Frank Kreml, Evanston, Ill., traffic expert, will make a survey of "unusual traffic problems" here next week, it was announced yesterday.

He will be in Atlanta Monday and Tuesday and it is considered likely that Captain Jack Malcom, head of the traffic bureau of the Atlanta police department, will seek his advice on projected one-way streets for vehicular travel.

NEGRO RESENTMENT TO DIE DECEMBER 27

ATHENS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Judge Blanton Fortson today sentenced Willie Frank Daniel, negro, convicted last January in superior court here of killing Policeman Herman Stein, to die in the electric chair at Milledgeville December 27.

Daniel's case was appealed to the Georgia supreme court, which several days ago upheld Judge Fortson's decision.

The negro was originally scheduled to die February 19 of this year.

A companion, Mrs. T. H. Porch, also of College Park, was injured severely, but is reported recovering at Emory University hospital.

Mrs. Baggett and Mrs. Porch were returning from a week's visit to relatives in South Carolina when the car overturned. Mrs. Baggett visited her mother in Columbia and Mrs. Porch spent the week in Rock Hill.

Mrs. Baggett is survived by her husband; two sons, J. L. Baggett Jr. and Leslie Baggett; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. King, of Columbia, and one brother, Clinton P. King Jr., of Coleraine, Minnesota.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church, College Park, with the Rev. Ellis A. Fuller, Dr. B. D. Gray, Dr. Louie D. Newton and Dr. W. H. Knight officiating. Burial will be at Columbia, S. C.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR PAUL THOMPSON

Services for Paul Thompson, 42, who died Tuesday at his home, 499 Atlanta avenue, were held yesterday afternoon in the Park Avenue Baptist church with the Rev. L. E. Smith and the Rev. H. Clark officiating. Burial was in Hollywood cemetery with Atlanta Lodge No. 59, F. & A. M., in charge.

Mr. Thompson had been an employee of the auditing department of the Western Union Telegraph Company for 26 years. He was a graduate of the Atlanta Law School in 1931 and received his masters degree last year. He was president of the Western Union Medical Association and past president of the Association of Western Union Employees.

COAL BODY REDUCES RAILROAD FUEL PRICES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Coal Commission reduced today price schedules for railroad fuel in District No. 13, including Alabama and parts of Georgia and Tennessee.

Nine producers in the area had protested to the commission on differentials between them and southern West Virginia. The commission said it believed the protests, on which a hearing had been scheduled December 14, would be withdrawn.

LUMBER WORKERS VOTE TO JOIN CIO

Election Called by Oregon Governor To Break 120-Day Deadlock

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 9.—(AP) Employees of the Inman-Pulsen Lumber Company chose the CIO as collective bargaining agency today by a vote of 376 to 183.

About 100 of the Inman-Pulsen Company's 593 employees began balloting shortly after 1 p. m. The election was called by Governor Charles Martin in an attempt to break the deadlock which had tied up Portland's lumber industry for 120 days. Complications were considered likely, however, regardless of the outcome.

CIO Union Certified. Although the National Labor Relations Board certified the CIO-affiliated International Woodworkers' Association as the bargaining agent for the Oregon-Washington millworkers, American Federation of Labor forces refused to recognize the award and began a boycott.

While the CIO agreed to "cooperate" in the election, its leaders indicated they might invoke provisions of the Wagner act against the company if the AFL won.

AFL leaders said they would continue their boycott against the mill if they lost in the balloting.

UAWA Replies to Suit. Striking members of the United Automobile Workers of America, replying to a suit for an injunction against mass picketing at the Ford Motor Company's St. Louis assembly plant, declared yesterday their conduct has been "peaceful and orderly."

Two members of the striking CIO union at the St. Louis plant were indicted by the grand jury late yesterday on charges of "assault to do great bodily harm."

A strike of longshoremen, which tied up a terminal in Baltimore since mid-November and spread to Boston, Providence and Philadelphia yesterday, was settled in New York last night. The men will return to work Saturday.

ARMY MEN SAFE

MANILA, Friday, Dec. 10.—(UP)—Two Philippine army officers and an American army aviator who disappeared on a flight during the Philippine islands' third typhoon early this week were reported found safe today on tiny Paguitan island, one mile from Manila Point, Paillo.

The men are Major General Paulino Santos, chief of staff of the Philippine army; Colonel Fidel Segundo, chief of the intelligence corps of the Philippine army, and Lieutenant William Lee, of the U. S. army air corps, who was flying the plane.

A searching party spotted their white flag atop a tree. The plane was not even scratched, it was said.

King of England Ends First Year; Inspects Planes

LONDON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—King George VI went about his engagements today on the eve of the first anniversary of the abdication of King Edward VIII, which brought him to the throne.

Quietly and methodically the King inspected Great Britain's latest bombers in the making. It was the 88th important engagement of his first year on the throne.

On December 10, 1936, after days of tense uncertainty, Stanley Baldwin, then prime minister, made his dramatic announcement to the house of commons that Edward VIII would renounce his throne to wed a twice-divorced commoner.

Now, Edward is H. R. H., the Duke of Windsor, self-exiled in parts with his Duchess, the American-born Wallis Warfield.

The Daily Express—almost alone among newspapers recalling the gloom of last year's abdication week—pleaded that Windsor, as well as his brother, the King, be given something useful to do for the empire he served so long as Prince of Wales and King. Edward abdicated December 10, parliament ratified the act December 11, and the Duke of York acceded as King George VI. There will be no imposing state ceremony today to mark the accession, chiefly because it would disrupt the London season and draw crowds away from Christmas shopping.

INJURED IN PLUNGE.
BLAIRSVILLE, Dec. 9.—Miss Corian Stambaugh, head of the home economics department at Piedmont College, Demorest, received lacerations about the face, and Mrs. S. M. Bentley, of Cornelia, suffered minor bruises when they plunged down a 30-foot embankment on the Murphy highway near here. They were taken to a Gainesville hospital for treatment.

LEADERS PLANNING TO DROP MEASURE TO RETURN WHISKY

all attempting changes were voted down. Speaker Roy Harris, of Richmond, joined Gross, of Stephens, the bill's author, in fighting for its passage with few amendments.

Bill Goes to Senate.

Gross' bill, which now goes to the senate, provides that as much revenue as was raised by the $3 tag in 1936 shall go to the State Highway Department for state-aid roads, with all in excess of that amount used to repay the approximate $2,000,000 diverted from state highway funds by the previous administration. After this diversion is repaid, this amount goes to the rural post roads of Georgia.

Harris and Gross declared that another bill to require the highway department to expend as much as $7,500 during 1938 in each county has been introduced and assured its passage.

Bill Amended.

The senate amended the house-approved stabilization bill before it was adopted, 31 to 3, thus sending it back to the lower house. However, senate leaders said the changes in this bill, which was urgently requested by the administration, were mostly in phraseology and it was expected would not receive opposition in the house. The stabilization bill places 10 percent, instead of 3, of allocated funds in the state treasury.

The debentures bill, asked for by Governor Rivers, received 37 yeas and no nays in the senate. It enables the borrowing of money by departments against anticipated revenue for use in the elementary institutions.

The bill to increase the fees of tax collectors, backed by several administration senators, lost by a vote of 21 for to 19 against, because it is necessary to secure 27 favorable votes on a measure of this kind. The bill would have raised collectors' pay about 30 percent and was sponsored because of losses due to homestead exemptions.

Bill To Reform Prisons. The first of the administration's bills to bring about prison reform in Georgia came yesterday as Senator Purdom, of Blackshear, and Senator Lindsay, of Decatur, introduced a measure to abolish the present prison commission and to set up a state parole commission, the members of which would automatically be the members of the present prison commission.

The new commission would have charge of granting all paroles, pardons and probations, including suspended sentences and all acts of clemency.

The three members would supervise parolees and probationers, as one part of prison reform.

ORDER SUSPECT'S TO RECEIVE DIVORCE TODAY

Mary B. Pekor Charged Atlanta Theatrical Man With Cruelty.

Final divorce decree will be rendered today to Mrs. Mary B. Pekor, wife of Ralph B. Pekor, former Atlanta theatrical man, who is accused of murder in Los Angeles. P. Bloodworth, attorney for Pekor, said she filed suit for divorce last March, charging that her husband had been cruel and unkind to her. The first decree was rendered last September in DeKalb county court.

Divorce Uncontested. Pekor, who was formerly employed in art and publicity capacity at two Atlanta theaters, did not contest the divorce, Bloodworth said. The Pekors were married four years ago, and separated last year, he added.

Pekor has attempted to break into California about a year ago, but was arrested. Pekor has played a number of bit parts.

Church To Observe Centennial Sunday

WEST POINT, Dec. 9.—When the West Point Presbyterian church celebrates its centennial at special services Sunday, it will use a silver communion service presented to it 100 years ago and salvaged when the original edifice was burned during the War Between the States.

The original church building was burned by federal troops while the historic Battle of Fort Tyler, last conflict of the war, was being fought.

Sunday's services also will mark the dedication of the present edifice, completed in 1925. Three former pastors and the Rev. J. S. Lack, who recently accepted a call to the pastorate, will be present.

son, of Los Angeles, pointed a shaking finger at Pekor before a coroner's jury and accused him of murdering his death son, William Williamson, 35-year-old Missouri farmer, who had gone to California hoping for a break in pictures.

Mother Tells Story. Clad in deep mourning and shaking with sobs, Mrs. Williamson said Pekor came to the auto court she and her son operated last December 1, offering Williamson a job in films as a cowboy. "He looked at my darling boy and said he was just the type," the elderly mother related. Pekor and her son then left, Mrs. Williamson continued. Williamson's body was found later. He had been shot through the head. Following the coroner's inquest, Pekor was arraigned on a murder charge, and a preliminary hearing was set for next Monday.

Mrs. Pekor, employed as a cashier in a downtown drug store, yesterday said she "hadn't heard of his troubles." She added that she "didn't want to have anything more to do with him."

At the inquest Monday, Deputy Sheriff Willard Killian testified Pekor told him the two were at target practice in preparation for hoped-for movie jobs, and that as Pekor aimed at a tin can from a parked car, Williamson arose suddenly from the running-board, a bullet striking him.

RAILS ASK SPEED IN RATE DECISION

Urge ICC to Grant Increase; Atlanta C. of C. Joins Plea.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(P)—An immediate increase in railroad rates is imperative to avert bankruptcies, the Association of American Railroads told the Interstate Commerce Commission today. Shipping interests quickly called the plea "absurd."

The commission has been holding hearings on a request, submitted several weeks ago, that freight rates be increased 15 per cent and eastern coach fares from 2 to 2 1/2 cents a mile. It is estimated the increase would amount to more than $500,000,000.

Immediate Action Urged.
In the ordinary course, the commission might not decide about the request for weeks. But the railroad association asked that the new charges go into effect immediately, pending later determination of a permanent rate structure.

Wilbur Laroe Jr., representing large paper interests, told reporters: "It's absurd to think the commission, considering the millions of dollars at stake, will prejudge the merits of the issue by deciding the case before the evidence is submitted."

"I am doubtful," he said, "whether the shippers will even dignify the motion with a reply."

The commission heard from a number of business statements that they and groups they represented favored an increase in railroad rates.

Moore Offers Resolution.
Wiley L. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., representing the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and shipping interests of that city, offered a resolution by the chamber's board of directors asking that relief be granted the railroads. He expressed belief that if the carriers received more revenue, "they will spend much of the increase for the purchase of materials, new equipment, and things of that kind which will go a long way toward stopping the present recession in business."

AGNES SCOTT GIRLS TO DEBATE BRITISH

English Team Will Be Honored at Reception Tonight.
Agnes Scott debaters will match their strength against English debaters tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Gaines chapel in the annual Agnes Scott-English debate.

Sponsored by the Pi Alpha Phi Agnes Scott debating Club the question for debate will be: "Resolved, That the Power of Trade Unions by the channel of directors asking that relief be granted the railroads. He expressed belief that if the carriers received more revenue, 'they will spend much of the increase for the purchase of materials, new equipment, and things of that kind which will go a long way toward stopping the present recession in business.'"

The English team is composed of Ronald Gibson, representing Cambridge University, and Thomas Brown debating for Oxford University. Agnes Scott will be represented by Miss Mary Frances Guthrie, of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Margaret Hopkins, of Gainesville.

Following the debate a reception will be given in honor of the English debaters in the Murphey Candler building.

65TH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING NEARS

Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Johnson To Celebrate Tomorrow.

Tomorrow Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Noble Johnson will quietly celebrate their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The Johnsons, who now live at 512 Clairmont avenue, Decatur, married here in 1872. Dr. Johnson was born in Johnson Estates, where he lived until about 15 years ago. His bride was the former Miss Aldora Reeder, who moved to Atlanta in 1887 from Gwinnett county, where she was born.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson have four children, Dr. Herbert A. Johnson, of Palatka, Fla.; Mrs. M. R. Hunicutt, of Oklawaha, Fla.; Mrs. W. A. Azmer and Miss Susie Johnson, of Atlanta.

NEW TRIAL IS REFUSED FOR FORTSON'S SLAYER

ELBERTON, Dec. 9.—(P)—W. A. Rucker, Elbert county court clerk, has announced receipt of an order from Superior Judge Berry T. Moseley overruling the new trial motion of Norman Williams, under death sentence for the slaying of Lon Fortson, a farmer.

Williams was convicted at the September term of court of shooting Fortson last July at the home of one of Fortson's tenants. Williams pleaded self-defense.

Date for resentencing Williams has not been set.

SEVERSKY WILL MAKE ATTEMPT ON AIR MARK

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Major Alexander De P. Seversky, Russian-born airplane designer, flew to Havana late today to arrange for an attempt on the Havana-to-Washington non-stop record.

Major Seversky said he planned to make the record attempt within the next 77 hours. He recently set a record for the hop from New York to Havana.

Uncontested Divorces To Be Rushed Through

Attempt was being made yesterday to clear the Fulton superior court calendar of uncontested divorce cases before the new year as clerks set 96 cases for trial today.

The unusually large calendar will be tried before Judges Paul S. Etheridge and Virlyn B. Moore. Officials in the clerk's office said that next week's docket must contain more than 135 cases if all are to be tried before January 1.

Civitan Speaker Blames Neglect For Boy Criminal

Driving home the fact that "the average man in prison today was in grade school 10 years ago, and the man who will be in prison 10 years hence is in the grade school now," Leland Pryor, president of Civitan International, yesterday blamed neglect of good, intelligent youth as the cause of most crime.

In a speech before the Civitan Club, at which Mayor Hartsfield, and Georgia delegates were in attendance, Pryor expressed amazement at the number of good boys and girls going wrong. For, he stated, 75 per cent of the parole cases have records before they reach the age of 16 years.

"Youth is venturesome, youth is wild, youth is reckless, but youth is not vicious," he said. Criminal tendencies assert themselves early in life; the neglected youth and the problem child is the genesis of crime. "All we need is the courage to do early what we are obliged to do later."

WHISKY CHARGE

Man Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $1,000 Bond.

Charged with transportation of 160 gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey, William Jacobs, of Lithia Springs, was bound over to federal grand jury yesterday under $1,000 bond after a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith.

Agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit said they arrested Jacobs Wednesday afternoon about five miles east of Austell. Jacobs admitted he had bought the liquor in Dawson county and was on his way to Atlanta, the officers said. He also admitted the transportation of 2,250 gallons of whiskey in the last six weeks, federal agents declared.

LOSES OWN WARD VOTE, BUT OTHERS ELECT HIM

LAFAYETTE, Dec. 9.—(P)—Voters of Lafayette's fifth ward defeated Paul Hawkins, automobile dealer, for councilman from that ward, 125 to 28, but he rode to victory by carrying the other four wards over A. R. Hale, local ice man, for a total vote of 326 to 239.

Two other councilmen, M. A. McConell, fourth ward, and W. N. Ransom, third ward, were re-elected without opposition.

DALHOVER DOOMED BY FEDERAL JURY

Will Be 3d Brady Mobster To Die.

HAMMOND, Ind., Dec. 9.—(P)—A federal court jury decided early tonight James Dalhove, last survivor of the Al Brady gang, should die in the electric chair for the murder of State Policeman Paul V. Minneman.

Pronouncement of sentence, a formality in view of the jury's verdict, was deferred by Judge Slick. He will meet with attorneys Monday to decide on procedure to be followed and set a date for the pronouncement.

Dalhove stared straight ahead

as the clerk read the which will make him the member of the Al Brady gang. Brady and Claren Shaffer Jr. were killed at 12 at Bangor, Maine, by agents who captured Dalhove. Minneman was slain last 25 while pursuing Dalhove, and Shaffer after they had a bank at Goodland, Ind.

BIBB OPENS FIGHT TO SET ASIDE LAW ON SCHOOL FUNDS

County Contends State Board of Education Cannot Change Allocation.

The suit by the Bibb County Board of Education to set aside the 1937 equalization law as it applies to Bibb county was opened yesterday before Fulton Superior Court Judge Hugh M. Dorsey.

Argument was not completed, and Judge Dorsey carried the case over until this morning, taking other cases off his calendar. Both parties indicated that appeal would be taken to the Georgia supreme court, whatever the decision might be.

The Bibb board brought a mandamus action against the State Board of Education, contending that the state board cannot change its method of allotting funds on a census basis because of exceptions provided in the state constitution.

Basis Changed by Board.
The state board changed the basis for sharing state funds by fixing allotments on the number of teachers employed in each county and the number of children in daily attendance at schools. The old basis determined payments according to a census of children of school age in the county.

The Bibb board contended that the law, which prorates school funds, is anti-dated by the charter of the Bibb board. Both sides agreed on facts in the case.

W. H. Duckworth, representing the state board, found himself in the position of challenging an opinion handed down by his boss, Attorney General M. J. Yeomans, who held that the state board was

Boy Drinks Fluid As 'Mercury' Drops

Everyone else may just talk about weather, but this Stone- wall, Ga., youngster believed in action.

When the thermometer yesterday dropped too low for Paul Ellis Pierce, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Pierce, the boy broke the gadget and swallowed the fluid.

Taken to Grady hospital, Paul was dismissed after treatment—doctors said the fluid was alcohol, not mercury.

In error, Yeomans declined further comment on the case.

Three Counties Affected.
Dr. M. D. Collins, state school superintendent, said the difference involved in the two methods of determining the county's allotment involved about $50,000 a month for Bibb county, $100,000 a month for Chatham and $38,000 a month for Richmond. Chatham and Richmond are not parties to the mandamus action, but would be affected by the court's decision.

The action was brought by Harry S. Strozzer and Jones, Russell & Sparks, of Macon. Duckworth is assisted by Dave M. Parker, another assistant attorney general.

CONFERENCE ASKED ON COUNTY INSANE

Chief Deputy Seeks Transfer of 25 and Return of Harmless Patients.

A conference by Governor Rivers, a delegation from the Fulton sheriff's office, the county commission and the state hospital has been asked for the purpose of solving the problem of 25 insane persons now in Fulton tower, several of whom have been there four years.

The conference is sought by J. E. Bazemore, chief deputy sheriff. Bazemore said yesterday efforts would be made to transfer these persons to the state hospital in Milledgeville.

An investigator is tracing all writs of lunacy in the county against patients at the state hospital, he said, with a view to returning harmless patients to their families. He added that plans for placing them on relief rolls were being studied.

State Welfare Director Lamar Murdaugh said he had no comment on the proposal to return more than 350 state patients to their homes in an effort to alleviate overcrowded conditions at the Milledgeville institution.

He did say the department's policy in regard to the hospital was "to remove those patients who do not belong there." Whether these were to be returned as responsibilities of their home counties, he said, was a question for authorities at the hospital to decide.

OFFICER ARRESTED IN TRAFFIC DEATH

Avondale Policeman Makes Bond of $1,000.

Hugh H. Terrell, Avondale policeman, was arrested yesterday on a DeKalb superior court bench warrant after the grand jury returned an indictment charging involuntary manslaughter in connection with the traffic death of George W. Gulley, of Decatur.

The policeman made $1,000 bond. City Manager E. C. Tolbert announced the policeman had not been suspended and "will not be suspended."

The indictment charges Terrell operated his auto in excess of 40 miles an hour when he struck Gulley on East College avenue, between Decatur and Avondale, last September.

SCHOOL BOY, 15, FREED IN SLAYING OF FATHER
FREEHOLD, N. J., Dec. 9.—(AP) Judge J. Edward Knight today freed Robert C. Miller, 15-year-old Keyport High school student charged with killing his father with a .22-caliber revolver.

Prosecutor T. Raymond Bazley, who reported to Judge Knight that the Monmouth county grand jury voted no indictment today after a review of the circumstances, said Robert confessed shooting his unemployed father, Robert E. Miller, 41, on November 21, because the latter came home drunk "and started shoving my mother around."

Struck by Speeding Train, Auto Demolished

This is a close-up view of the front seat of the late model car which collided with a speeding Central of Georgia passenger train last night at the Lakewood and Main street crossing in downtown East Point. The steering wheel was jammed toward the roof, the dashboard was knocked from its horizontal position, to a diagonal one. The front seat cushion is gone. East Point Policeman W. B. Rachmaninoff Pleases Audience Of 5,000 in Brilliant Performance

Interpretation of Own Famous Composition, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor," Wins Tremendous Ovation; Fleetness of Fingers Praised.

Sergei Rachmaninoff, revered by music lovers the world over for his triple genius—pianist, composer, conductor—gave the third concert in the All-Star Series to an audience of approximately 5,000 at the Fox theater last night. It was two of his three-fold talents that he shared generously with the appreciative and warmly enthusiastic audience last night—as pianist, and as composer.

Rachmaninoff gave a thrillingly beautiful concert. His playing is in a class to itself. He possesses a wide range of virtuosity and with his brilliant technical equipment he couples tonal beauty and a depth of interpretation that can only come when one has lived the full and complete life that has been Rachmaninoff's. And his playing possesses that indefinable something that if one did not know the history of his achievements in life, one would immediately recognize his art as that of a great genius. So clearly does he define the drama, the poetry, the beauty, the joy, the pathos in his interpretations that he recreates each composition as in a world to itself, yet a world easily and pleasantly inhabited by each listener.

Opening of Program.
Opening the program with "Weeping, Plaints, Sorrows, Fears," by Liszt, a prelude after Bach, he followed this with a performance of the Bach "Italian Concerto" that was a masterpiece of Bach interpretation.

The third group of the program was all Chopin. Opening with the Nocturne in F major, he endowed it with poetic feeling and tonal warmth that made it soul-satisfying. The familiar Impromptu in A flat major followed, then the Mazurka, Opus 63, No. 2, a thing of rare charm and grace. The Valse, Opus 42 (A flat major), was brilliantly done, and the group closed with a grand climax in the Scherzo in C sharp minor. He played the Impromptu, the Valse and the Scherzo with amazing speed, revealing them in a new and breath-taking conception.

After intermission he played the "Suite Bergamasque" by Debussy, and here again was the pianistic poet, painting in lovely tone colors the Italian scenes of the province of Bergamo. Of course, the outstanding memory of this group was the lovely "Claire de Lune."

Highlight of Program.
The highlight of the program for a great number of the audience was undoubtedly his performance of his own famous "Prelude in C sharp minor," which won a tremendous ovation.

The program closed with two Liszt numbers, "Voices of the Woods" and "Dance of the Gnomes," played with exquisite delicacy and finger fleetness.

In response to the loud and prolonged acclaim of the audience, Rachmaninoff gave three encores, each seeming to excel in brilliance, beauty, "Wandering" by Schubert, "Hopak" by Moussorgsky-Rachmaninoff, and "Flight of the Bumble Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakoff-Rachmaninoff.

"Dodd said. 'I ran to the car to see if anyone was in it. I found none and when I reached the driver, who was thrown from his seat after the first impact, the ambulance driver was ready to carry him away. I did not recognize Mac at first, so badly mangled was the body.'

Dodd said McIntyre was returning home after making several night calls. He was only two blocks from his home.

Engineer Raymond Lee, of Macon, was at the throttle. The train continued after the wreckage was cleared.

He was a salesman for an East Point automobile agency and lived at 111 Clairmont avenue.

East Point Policemen W. B. Cawthorne and Buster Blant are investigating.

McIntyre is survived by his wife and a sister, Mrs. Tom Hale, of Toronto, Canada. Funeral arrangements will be announced by A. C. Hemperley & Sons.

Georgia Girl, 19, Planning To Try Hollywood Again

With a "do or die" attitude 19-year-old Mickey Sauls, pretty Shillman, Ga., girl, plans to tackle Hollywood again.

Her failure recently to "crash the gates" of the film capital, drew nation-wide attention to the farmer's daughter. It has increased an already healthy determination to return.

"I didn't fail exactly," she said yesterday. "I was one of 15 girls to win the screen test after I got to Hollywood, and although I didn't get a contract, Maurice Kosloff, agent for Twentieth Century Fox, who arranged the test for me, promised to give me a chance in January."

"I'm not afraid of anything," said the young girl. "I wasn't afraid to go out there before and I'm not afraid to try again."

The report that she hitch-hiked to Hollywood is "not true," she says. "I went by way of bus and after three weeks returned on the train. My parents furnished me the money."

A pretty brunette, Miss Sauls has won six different beauty contests in various Atlanta theaters. She has prepared herself for a theatrical career by studying dancing for a number of years. She also took a business course in Atlanta but the footlights hold a stronger lure than the typewriter keys for her.

"I am not discouraged," she said. "To succeed in Hollywood one must have determination, a certain amount of personality and common sense. I think I can make it."

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER, DR. GUSTAF DALEN, DIES

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Dr. Gustaf Dalen, 67, Swedish inventor and industrialist who won the Nobel physics prize in 1912, died here today.

Dr. Dalen invented the system of acetylene lighting used in lighthouses throughout the world. The sun valve he perfected permits the light beam to be turned on and off automatically at unmanned lighthouses with the approach of night and day.

COTTON OFFICIALS HITS TARIFF WALL

Congress Has Failed to Recognize Our Troubles, Says R. G. Daniell.

Cotton growers will be "punished because congress not recognize our basic trouble," R. G. Daniell, president of Cotton Producers' Association of America, declared here yesterday.

Daniell spoke over a radio trip to Washington. "The tariff has done nothing but build up a false standard, and in doing that has penalizing the cotton grower the south for almost a century," he said.

"Cotton is our product. We ton producers have only because of the many sects which cotton is grown, our acts sell at a world price. is, our cotton sells at the level that Japan would sell were it not for the tariff wall," he said.

"We are asking no protection but we are demanding our removal from this tariff price. Daniell will leave here today home at Metter, Candler ty, Georgia.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 10, 1937.

THE WORLD VIEW OF BUSINESS

Prevailing conditions do not indicate the imminence of any major economic depression, World Trade, organ of the International Chamber of Commerce, finds after a careful survey of world-wide economic conditions.

The business recession of the late summer this year is regarded more as a period of "relative stagnation" at existing levels of activity than as an actual lessening of industrial activity, and the survey says it is not unreasonable "to look forward to renewed activity promoted through private investment at home and abroad."

It is pointed out that, taking the world as a whole, economic activity has been on the upgrade, since 1932, for five consecutive years. World exports and imports which, admittedly, lagged behind domestic improvement during the first part of the recovery period, showed strong increases in 1936 and a still greater advance in the first half of 1937. The advance for 1936, according to statistics by the League of Nations, was more than 5 per cent in quantity and nearly 8 per cent in value. In the second quarter of 1937 the value of world trade was more than 31 per cent greater than for the same period in 1936. The volume of international trade for that period was 96 per cent of the highest 1929 level, while in many individual countries the foreign trade exceeded the 1929 peak.

Elliot Wadsworth, chairman of the American section of the international chamber, analyzes the American factor in the world markets in a special article. He points out that America, in a few years, has changed the character of her exports from raw materials to manufactured goods, in the order of quantity importance. During the same period America has changed from a net debtor to the rest of the world to its greatest creditor.

Pointing out that international credit must be reorganized, providing new and better facilities for transferring credits around the world, Mr. Wadsworth declares that the foundations for the new system must be the same as for the old. They are the good credit of nations which practice sound finance and maintain stable value for their currencies with gold reserves.

Mr. Wadsworth describes tariff and other hampering factors in world trade as "clogs in the arteries of international trade which seriously affect its vitality." These must be cleared away, he adds.

He then speaks in highest praise of the reciprocal trade treaty policy of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, saying that the nation may well feel proud that the United States, through this policy, is taking the lead in a program essential for continued world prosperity and world peace.

The Hull treaties serve to reduce, a few bricks at a time, the walls that check the flow of goods from nation to nation. It is slow work, but progress is steady and good results are already evident.

The proposed trade treaty between the United States and Britain represents by far the most important single item in this program. It is the keystone of the arch that supports international commercial traffic. Its possibilities for good have already been glimpsed in the revelation that it will make possible a resumption of war debt payments by Britain to this country.

Of particular interest to the south is the fact that, by letting down some of the bars to the import of British goods into the United States, the British textile interests will be able to secure credits with which to buy American cotton. And, if those credits become available, it is certain that British textile manufacturers will prefer American cotton over much of the rival staple produced in other countries.

VITALIZING THE CYCLOPAMA

The Cyclopama of the Battle of Atlanta, at Grant Park, is one of the greatest tourist-attracting assets possessed by the city. Few Atlantans realize the value of this great painting belonging to the city.

Now it is proposed to "dramatize" that picture, by the use of lighting, sound and motion picture effects, to create the illusion of an actual, moving reproduction of the battle in progress. Such a plan if successfully materialized, would add immeasurably to the interest of the pictured story.

As the plans are now worked out it is not intended that the added effects shall be in operation all the time. They would be used only at stated hours. Atlantans as well as visitors would thus be enabled to visit the cyclopama at a given hour when they would see a drama re-enacted before their eyes of surpassingly greater fascination than any fictionalized story of stage or screen.

The privilege of seeing the Battle of Atlanta realistically re-enacted is one that cannot be measured, for those who have, today, stood upon the same terrain where the struggle raged. That the improvements would quickly pay for themselves is a foregone conclusion. Increased admission receipts would, in a comparatively short time, repay the cost and bring in an increased revenue.

The proposal has already received the approval of the finance committee of city council. The budget commission is to be asked to include the necessary funds in its new finance sheet. Then it is to be hoped that council itself will provide for an early start on the necessary work.

COTTON FOR JAPAN?

Recent confidential advices from Tokyo reveal that the cotton-producing section of the United States has a direct and vital interest in the policies of the Flowery Kingdom in regard to its attack on China.

It is reported that a special Japanese textile mission will sail for the United States in the near future. Its objective will be to secure credits in this country with which it can purchase American cotton.

Significant in the report is the admission that the Japanese recognize there is a strong anti-Japanese sentiment in this country, based on sympathy for the Chinese victims of the unofficial war in the Orient, and therefore the textile leaders do not expect credits to be advanced through the usual channels in the east. They doubt, it is stated, "that the Export-Import Bank will advance credits."

Faced with this situation, the Japanese textile mission plans to attempt to make private arrangements directly with southern cotton-producing interests, ignoring the usual facilities for export credits at New York.

There is one eventuality, however, which would effectively bar such a plan. That would be for the Sino-Japanese war to be officially declared. If Tokyo should formally inform the world it has declared war on China, President Roosevelt would be forced to invoke the United States neutrality act, which prohibits all American credits to a belligerent.

Thus there appears to be direct southern interest in the policies of Tokyo militarists. If the war remains "unofficial," arrangements may be perfected for large shipments of American cotton to Japan. If the war becomes orthodox, those shipments will be impossible.

Despite all arguments that the Sino-Japanese situation is no concern of Uncle Sam's, the south is, economically, directly concerned in the conflict.

TO CONTROL CANCER

Georgia, and 41 other states, has launched its annual campaign for the control of cancer. It is under the sponsorship of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. In this state Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens, is in charge of the drive, which is conducted with the active co-operation of the Medical Association of Georgia and the State Department of Public Health.

One of the most important steps toward reducing the cancer mortality of the United States is education. There has been, through the years, a widespread belief that cancer is almost invariably fatal. This erroneous belief induces a mental attitude on the part of those afflicted with the disease which contributes largely to the mortality rates.

Cancer, in its earlier stages, is easily curable. In most cases a comparatively simple surgical operation restores the patient to normal and removes forever the danger.

It is only when the disease is neglected and permitted to progress to an advanced stage that the hope of cure becomes slim. It is thus vitally important to secure prompt examination by a competent physician at the first suspicion of cancer growth. The history of cancer, in fact, emphasizes once again the importance of everyone undergoing a thorough physical examination at regular periods, regardless of a supposedly good physical condition or not.

Enlistment in the Women's Field Army costs only a nominal sum. The money collected is used for the dissemination of public information upon cancer and for other important phases of the carefully mapped campaign against this disease.

Another of the bowl classics was unveiled during the week in the northern communities, bringing together Tom and Jerry.

Strangely absent from the success magazines is a type who owes everything to hard work, self-denial and being distantly related to a child film star.

Editorial of the Day

INEFFICIENT DEMOCRACY

(From the Greenville Piedmont.)

Proponents of various European dictatorial systems often cry that democracy is too inefficient to give human beings a good government. We who defend democracy might as well understand that democracy's inefficiency is an essential part of freedom—that it is, in fact, a reason for preferring democracy rather than for rejecting it.

Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase, of New York University, touched on this point in an address at the sesquicentennial of Franklin and Marshall College the other day.

"Democracy will be a better thing," he said, "if we have the patience and the wisdom to remember that men and women cannot be dragged and regimented into democracy."

"Democracy is a growth which is nourished on the intelligent co-operation of free men. It develops, not by force and violence, but by education and re-education."

Because of those things, it moves slowly and makes mistakes. Hence it is inefficient. And its inefficiency is one great reason for cherishing it.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

The Grouse on Geography.

"What the world needs," said the Grouse sentimentally, "is to direct its distinguished attention to the study of geography. Less free verse, amateur dramatics, basket-weaving and kindred subjects and more geography. Also simple geometry. A straight line, I was taught in my youth, is the shortest distance."

"Whatever are you talking about? Do you want some bacon?"

"Geography. Geometry. The geometry of the world today is based on the theory that the longest way round is the shortest way home. That is a sentimental, not a scientific, observation."

"I don't know what you are talking about. The immediate cause of this observation is a little pamphlet which has come to me by way of the businessmen of Kyoto, Japan, Textile Building. A pretty little pamphlet with pictures of pea-fishermen and pretty Kyoto girls. And it seems that I have been gravely misled in the public prints and news reels about the Sino-Japanese conflict."

"Misinformed?"

"Yes, my dear. I have been thinking that bombs dropped upon Nanking were directed against the Chinese, whose lives they took. It seems this is not the fact. They are directed against Russians. The Japanese government, taking its cue from the late Woodrow Wilson, announces that it has quarrel with the Chinese people. It loves them to death. Its quarrel is with the Soviet Union."

"So what?"

"Allow me to develop my argument in my own rambling way. This little pamphlet begins with a proclamation from the Mikado, the Emperor of Japan, affirming that the adventure into China is for the purpose of establishing peace. You yourself have often maintained, as I remember, that the next war will be fought not for democracy, but for peace. We are told that peace is threatened by the fact that Soviet Russia stretched her tentacles through Outer Mongolia. . . . makes it impossible for the world to remain indifferent. Therein," says 'this pamphlet, 'lies the threat of a world conflagration.' And it is to stop Russia from making this world conflagration that Japan is in China. She is 'not there for any aggressive purposes.'"

"The fundamental issue at stake, we are told, is whether China's teeming masses will be cowed into Communism. The Mikado is General Chiang Kai-shek, who, having once fought the Communist Kuomintang government, has dared to sign an agreement with Soviet Russia. This agreement, to get arms from Russia in case of attack, amounts to a declaration of hostilities."

"Now, of course, this argument is not confined to China. Germany, Italy and Japan all consider that Soviet Russia is a menace to world peace. They are only fighting, wherever they may be fighting, to put down Soviet Russia. And now you understand."

"Good morning, madam," to Eve said Adam: "Good morning, sir," to him said her."

When, in good faith a few days ago we used this ancient rhyme as it was written, we never thought to be running the gamut of grammarians from Virginia to the Rio Grande. But scores of correspondents have come forward with corrections. "To him from her— isn't that the way you meant to write it?" insists the most recent. We stick to it that this first love in Eden was reported in just the grammar we recited. But what has happened now is that because of all the talk about it, we can't get the jingle out of our head. In earnest moments when we ought to be considering the wage-hour bill or the violation of civil liberties in the south, we find the infernal little "Good morning, madam," "sing-song-ing" through our brain.

"Good morning, madam," to Eve said Adam. . . . It's like having the hiccup and not being able to stop. We've tried drinking water and holding our breath and chugging gum rapidly, but the thing keeps coming back. "Good morning, madam," to Eve said Adam. "Good morning, sir," to him said her." "Soon we'll go mad."

Once there was a jingle which ran a whole nation mad. When Mark Twain published his rhyme about the instructions to street car conductors in his city, it got into everybody's heads and recited itself over and over again for months. Lots of people, if we remember aright, were taken to sanitariums suffering with the rhyme. It ran something like this: "Conductor, when you receive a fare, . . ."

"Punch in the presence of the passenger."

"A pink trip slip for a three-cent fare."

"A blue trip slip for a five-cent fare."

"Punch, brothers, punch with care."

"Punch in the presence of the passenger!"

Rising to a point of personal predicament, this column wishes to announce that in order to be spared nervous indigestion or worse, we have decided to stop worrying about all the books and pamphlets sent us that we have not yet had time to read, all the letters we have not yet answered or comment upon, all the conversations and encounters planned which we have not yet had time to accomplish, all the interesting and important stand what I mean about geography and geometry."

"I understand vaguely. Not exactly."

"The shortest route to Russia, my child, is not by way of Shanghai, Nanking, Peiping and Jehol. The shortest route is by way of Vladivostok—which is very near to Japan indeed. The shortest route between Berlin and Moscow is not by way of Valencia. The shortest route between Rome and Leningrad is not via Addis Ababa. Italy, Germany and Japan have all openly announced that they aim to stand together and drive Communism in the interests of world peace. The seat of Communism, local and international, is Moscow. There it rules, and there the 'party line' is laid down, and from there the world movement, such as it is, is directed. But, obvious as these facts are, they are not known by the masses. They don't know geography. Or geometry. They think that a curved and zig-zag line is the straightest distance between two points. They deposit astonished Italian soldiers on the Spanish coast when they think there are going to attack Russia in Ethiopia."

"Now this unfortunate confusion about geography and geometry is very dangerous. Because you just never can tell where these fellows are going to turn up next. But, obvious as these facts are, they are not known by the masses. They don't know geography. Or geometry. They think that a curved and zig-zag line is the straightest distance between two points. They deposit astonished Italian soldiers on the Spanish coast when they think there are going to attack Russia in Ethiopia."

"After discussing the use of the teletype, or direct printer, he goes into a forecast of the coming facsimile telegraphy."

The teletype, for the sake of those of you unfamiliar with modern newspaper operation, is a machine which, while the operator may write, as on a typewriter, in one office, the written words come out of a synchronized machine in a distant city. In fact, they may come off many machines in many cities, simultaneously, all from the one operator at home base, as it were.

However, teletypes are routine equipment nowadays and it is the facsimile telegraphy which holds interest today. Of this, Sir Roderick said:

"Facsimile telegraphy is a machine which will reproduce whole columns in a few minutes, and machines, already in use on some private wires, that will not only deliver the copy by telegraph, but set it up in type."

"Technically the operation of typesetting by telegraph is comparatively simple, but it is not likely to be adopted for agency and press association services; different newspapers naturally prefer to sub-edit and set the messages in their own way. Facsimile transmission, on the other hand, probably will be used for these services."

"It involves entirely different principles from those underlying the direct printer system, and the speed attained today by teleprinting may yet be made to look ridiculous. Facsimile transmission is not a process of sending messages letter by letter, but of scanning a piece of copy in such a way that the whole of the sheet put into the sending machine comes out at the other end after the manner of picture transmission or television."

"So far, facsimile transmission is used only for pictures, drawings, advertisements, and so on, not for news messages, and certain parts of the process are still slower or more expensive than ordinary teleprinting when it comes to sending straightforward text matter."

"Much inventive genius is engaged in searching for simplifications and improvements of the teleprinting process, but it is not likely to be adopted for agency and press association services; different newspapers naturally prefer to sub-edit and set the messages in their own way. Facsimile transmission, on the other hand, probably will be used for these services."

"Sir William Osler, the great man of medicine, wrote something about the importance of separating your attention into what he called 'day-light compartments.' In other words, of doing the day's work as it comes with out worrying about work to be done in future or holding in the back of your mind an oppressive awareness of some great sum of work to be done in days to come. To newspaper people, and many others whose jobs are made up of thousands of little and big items, the 'day-light compartment' plan is the only possible one, surely."

Some people, though, get themselves into such a state that they can't ever think closely of the present thing because their real attention is on the next thing to come. They are able to concentrate their attention to the day at hand but they can't hold it to the moment at hand. They are capable of making no "second-thought" compartments in their minds. Such people should be persuaded by vanity if nothing else to try to mend their way for they make the most thoroughly objectionable company in the world."

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

There are times when you're feeling defeated,
When life seems too loaded with care,
You'd like to go back to your childhood,
To the home you so loved,
over there.

You'd like to go back to your mother,
A boy of ten years, once again,
And lay your tired head on her shoulder,
Forget all your trouble and pain.

And then, with her dear arms around you,
She'd whisper, "Don't cry, be a man,
Just stick out your chin and keep smiling,
You'll win, mother knows that you can!"

More Marvels
To Come.

In an address delivered in London before the annual conference of the Empire Press Union, Sir Roderick Jones, K. B. E., chairman of Reuters, that great European news gathering organization, gives some fascinating glimpses of news transmitting methods which will be in general use in the not so distant future.

After discussing the use of the teletype, or direct printer, he goes into a forecast of the coming facsimile telegraphy.

The teletype, for the sake of those of you unfamiliar with modern newspaper operation, is a machine which, while the operator may write, as on a typewriter, in one office, the written words come out of a synchronized machine in a distant city. In fact, they may come off many machines in many cities, simultaneously, all from the one operator at home base, as it were.

"Facsimile telegraphy is a machine which will reproduce whole columns in a few minutes, and machines, already in use on some private wires, that will not only deliver the copy by telegraph, but set it up in type."

"Technically the operation of typesetting by telegraph is comparatively simple, but it is not likely to be adopted for agency and press association services; different newspapers naturally prefer to sub-edit and set the messages in their own way. Facsimile transmission, on the other hand, probably will be used for these services."

"It involves entirely different principles from those underlying the direct printer system, and the speed attained today by teleprinting may yet be made to look ridiculous. Facsimile transmission is not a process of sending messages letter by letter, but of scanning a piece of copy in such a way that the whole of the sheet put into the sending machine comes out at the other end after the manner of picture transmission or television."

"So far, facsimile transmission is used only for pictures, drawings, advertisements, and so on, not for news messages, and certain parts of the process are still slower or more expensive than ordinary teleprinting when it comes to sending straightforward text matter."

"Much inventive genius is engaged in searching for simplifications and improvements of the teleprinting process, but it is not likely to be adopted for agency and press association services; different newspapers naturally prefer to sub-edit and set the messages in their own way. Facsimile transmission, on the other hand, probably will be used for these services."

"Sir William Osler, the great man of medicine, wrote something about the importance of separating your attention into what he called 'day-light compartments.' In other words, of doing the day's work as it comes with out worrying about work to be done in future or holding in the back of your mind an oppressive awareness of some great sum of work to be done in days to come. To newspaper people, and many others whose jobs are made up of thousands of little and big items, the 'day-light compartment' plan is the only possible one, surely."

Some people, though, get themselves into such a state that they can't ever think closely of the present thing because their real attention is on the next thing to come. They are able to concentrate their attention to the day at hand but they can't hold it to the moment at hand. They are capable of making no "second-thought" compartments in their minds. Such people should be persuaded by vanity if nothing else to try to mend their way for they make the most thoroughly objectionable company in the world."

"Accept no favors," says the Talmud, "with which thou canst dispense."

"All is not gain that is in the purse."

"Always remember you cannot expect success if your business or occupation is inimical to your neighbor."

"At a great bargain pause a while."

"Be a good merchant; pay well, and strive always to do good."

"Be content with a small profit on articles which you can easily obtain and dispose of rather than large profits on articles which must be brought from a distance."

"Begin nothing until you have considered how it is to be finished."

The Strange Story of a Hay Race That Got Addled

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

A certain small island in the midst of the ocean was inhabited by a race of happy people who thought no other human dwelt on earth.

Their climate was ideal; their rich soil returned abundant crops; and they were free of civilization's diseases and vices. Their chief, who judged matters of controversy, was chosen by popular vote to serve until the end of his days; but he had to do, for every individual on the island possessed all the needed, and there was no occasion for envy or fear or strife.

The medium of exchange, which we call money, was unknown. The only building material on the island; and a man had used the trees on his place, and needed a new barn, was pelted to exchange some commodity for his neighbor's spare bar or wait for his own trees to grow.

However, there was little barter, for there was little need building. Each modest house was built to last for a century all alike were built for use and not for show.

In such a prosperous and contented land, it was natural every man should consider his neighbor an equal. And this deed was true, for there was no thought of class or caste and most respected were those who had the most wisdom or skill learning.

But one year a man who had many acres of timber by steeples on his house. And the grandeur of it filled him with so that he walked with his chin high and spoke like an important citizen.

Because he was proud, others felt belittled. They envied him and soon resolved to build steeples higher than his.

Soon lumber became precious. Men gave their entire crop a few trees. Steeples rose higher and higher. And those with the highest steeples were most admired and most envied.

A small boy would say: "Why can't I go fishin'?" And another would answer: "Because you must study and learn to build a high steeple and be somebody."

And a woman who once was happy would say to her: "Why can't you build a steeple as high as the Smiths? That we snubs me, and I'd rather be dead than live under a dinky steeple like ours."

So the people learned to envy and covet and hate and haughty or ashamed, and they sacrificed honor and wisdom contentment to build a foolish steeple a little higher than a neighbor's.

The Church
In Danger.

NEW YORK.—Now that the church is fully awake to the fact that a world-wide war is being waged against it, what does it intend to do about the matter? This question is asked by Ernest M. Hodgdon in the New York Times. He asks this question apropos of an address by Charles H. Tuttle, delivered before the Greater Federation of New York Churches recently. "Do something it must, or perish," says Mr. Hodgdon, and he adds: "It is a truism that nothing happens without some adequate cause. Has the church considered the possibility that the cause may be found in the failure to keep step with modern trends in education and science and education?"

I am not convinced, as Mr. Hodgdon is, that the church is fully awake to the fact that it is under a heavy and devastating cross-fire. I do not believe that the church, some notable individual churchmen excepted, is awake at all. I believe it is fast asleep, its senses deadened by a notion of false security. Mr. Hodgdon suggests a pooling of resources on the part of the various Protestant churches in this country in order to be able to withstand the onslaught of the storm that is discernible with menacing intent on quests from the sheriff's office and Alderman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of council's police committee, for names of those implicated by witnesses he and grand jury members have interviewed.

James D. Bazemore, chief deputy sheriff, asked for the names of deputy sheriffs alleged to be involved, and Bridges acted for the police committee. Both, it was reported, promised to clean house.

Andrews has made no commitment as to whether he will comply with the requests, but persons close to him have pointed out that he believes those guilty should be prosecuted vigorously, in addition to losing their positions. It was believed probable that Andrews will be willing to supply a list of those he can not indict for the private consideration of various law enforcement executive departments.

Bridges yesterday explained why he wants the list of those who are not indicted.

Mr. Andrews will not indict a man if he does not believe he has sufficient evidence to make the case stand up before a trial jury, Bridges said. "No fair man would do that. Our committee would be indicted intensely in shady cases—those in which there is not sufficient evidence to indict, but which the committee itself could handle. Even if our committee did not have enough evidence to dismiss the person involved, we at least would know who to keep an eye on."

Andrews refused to affirm or deny reports that he has sufficient information to ask indictments. It was indicated that he will continue his private probe for the remainder of the month, and will be ready to present the facts and to call key witnesses before the January-February grand jury.

DR. SMITH TO GIVE SONG TOURNAMENT

Novel Program Arranged for Central Presbyterian Church Tonight.

Dr. H. Augustine Smith with his experience in leading some 9,000,000 people at different times throughout the world and his love for hymns and pictures and drama has planned a novel program for tonight at the Central Presbyterian church, which will begin by singing hymns from many lands, Egypt, India, Japan, Russia, Australia.

There will also be a tournament of song or the organization of choir and congregation into antiphonal chorals, singing back and forth, but all joining on the shouts of hallelujah.

The second part will feature pictures in beautiful colors synchronized with organ music, solo voice, spoken word and congregational carolling. These "stills," over one hundred of them, are unsurpassed in color, charm and dramatic portrayal.

Before and after, some of Dr. Smith's famous art gallery will be on exhibit.

Dr. Smith, a graduate and student at North Central College, Oberlin College, and the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, taught for 16 years in Chicago Theological Seminary and the Divinity school of the University of Chicago. He organized and directed for 16 years the five vested choirs at the First Congregational church, Chicago, organizing some of the very first juvenile choirs in the United States.

Moving to Boston, he became head of the department of fine arts in religion, Boston University, later becoming head of the department of church and community music, where he now is.

Dr. Smith is also a world traveler, having in the past 20 years averaged 500 miles of week-end travel, or over one-half million miles in this time, on four continents.

He is at present chairman of church music for the National Federation of Music Clubs.

ner will officiate and burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Search for the note began yesterday morning when Green reiterated previous statements that Miss Nutting had mailed a letter a short time before they drove out Howell Mill road.

Lieutenant Cal Gates and Patrolman John Carter, of Fulton county police, and a postal inspector went to the box and obtained the missive. It was turned over to the addressee, a young man, who promptly surrendered it to the authorities for their inspection.

Private Hearing.
A private hearing into the case was held yesterday morning by Coroner Donehue in the Fulton county courthouse. The girl's parents; Green and his father, Alfred F. Green, businessman; Lieutenant Cates; Patrolman Carter and newspapermen attended the hearing.

Young Green told how he and Miss Nutting had attended an entertainment earlier Wednesday night at North Fulton High school. Here Green said the girl wrote to him on a page of the program: "If I do anything drastic, I want you to promise to behave."

Green said he attempted to take the program, but that the girl pulled it away and then tore it. The torn program was found later, and given authorities.

Wanted To Mail Letter.
When they began their ride after the show, Green said Miss Nutting asked him to stop so that she could mail the letter. A short time previously, she had insisted that they go to his home and get his gun, Green said, as she mentioned "wanting to shoot a few times."

It was also revealed at the hearing yesterday that Miss Nutting had been worried recently, fearing she had made a mistake in taking medicine.

At the seminary, it was learned from classmates that several weeks ago, Miss Nutting did not know a lesson and told the teacher, "I'm just worried to death."

Several of her classmates wept openly at the school yesterday when news of their friend's death became known.

Snowplows in New York.

Snowplows dug through seven-foot drifts in upstate New York yesterday to rescue motorists marooned in near-zero cold. Meanwhile, Florida citrus growers were warned to put out smudge pots again at 4 o'clock this morning, though winds were expected to prevent frost in most sections.

LAFAYETTE LAWYER ORDERED DISBARRED

Evidence Reveals Obtaining of Tennessee Divorces for Georgians.

LAFAYETTE, Dec. 8.—(AP)—David F. Pope, Lafayette attorney and former representative in the Georgia assembly from Walker county, was disbarred from the practice of law at a special hearing held today before Judge Claude Porter, of Rome.

The action was brought by the Walker County Bar Association, which introduced evidence to show Pope had obtained divorces for clients through courts in Tennessee and that the clients had not claimed to be residents of that state.

Fred Belcher, of Lafayette, Mrs. Willie Hensley, of Chickamauga, and Mrs. Jessie Lee Coots, of Trion, were among the witnesses who testified they obtained Tennessee divorces while residing in Georgia and they acted on the advice of Pope, who represented them, and obtained the decrees in six weeks.

Town Will Honor Sailors Who Lost Lives in Sub, S-4

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A simple timber cross, standing in a churchyard in this old Cape Cod town, will be dedicated December 17 to the memory of 40 sailors who went to their deaths in the battered hulk of the submarine S-4 10 years ago.

The navy, coast guard, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and fishermen from this port will join in tribute to those men who died while would-be rescuers worked frantically but vainly to raise the craft from its muddy bed 100 feet below the surface.

The cross has been given a place in the churchyard where prayers for the doomed men were said during those trying days of the Christmas season in 1927.

It was at 3:37 p. m. that the coast guard destroyer Paulding, on patrol and doing 18 knots, crashed into the S-4 as it cruised underwater, with its periscopes barely showing. The S-4, only 1,800 yards from shore, plunged to the bottom.

Frantic tapping came from six men trapped in the torpedo room. The men begged for oxygen—for help—for rescue—and the last message heard more than 72 hours after the crash, was a brave but weak "OK" to a query about their condition.

Early in the new year, divers succeeded in bringing out all but eight bodies. It was not until March, 1928, that the S-4 was raised with pontoons.

KENNEDY EXPECTED TO STIFFEN POLICY NATION ABROAD

Immediate Problems New Ambassador to St. James' Court.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The nomination of Joseph P. Kennedy of Pittsfield, Mass., as ambassador to Great Britain was tonight as part of a broad plan to solidify Anglo-American relations and to stiffen this nation's foreign policy in the world unrest. His nomination probably will be sent to the Senate within a fortnight. He is a close friend of President Roosevelt.

The proposed London shift in policy soon after William E. Bullfinch, who had resigned as ambassador to Germany, was expected to be succeeded by Assistant Secretary of State Hugh R. Wilson, son of a wealthy Illinois steeling family and former diplomat corps and is a student of an expert on international politics.

Immediate problems would be the man who 48 hours ago gathered in New York to "quilt" and aid President Roosevelt in combatting the cur-

Three Refused Bail in Slaying of Daughtry

Ralph Newton (left) and his father, Joe Newton (right), under indictment in connection with the slaying of Charlie Daughtry, wealthy Screven county planter, unsuccessfully sought freedom on bail in court in Millen Wednesday. The younger Newton is charged with being a principal in the crime, and his father as an accessory after the fact.

Albert Cobb, Savannah attorney and twice a candidate for congress, is shown here as he spoke in the courtroom in Millen Wednesday, when he sought release on bail. Cobb, like the two Newtons, shown above, is under indictment in Daughtry's death. Bail was denied, and Cobb was remanded to the Chatham county jail in Savannah, where he can be near his family until his scheduled trial at the January term of court.

Defendants Take Stand, Tell of Slaying Revels in Chickamauga Park.

ROME, Dec. 9.—The fate of Roy Weathers and his wife, Virgie Weathers, charged with the slaying of James Revels in Chickamauga park last August, is expected to rest in the hands of a federal court jury here before noon tomorrow.

Defense testimony was completed late this afternoon, and a night session was devoted to summation, which will be completed tomorrow morning.

High points in the day's trial came when Weathers, 23, and his 21-year-old wife took the stand to tell the jury their version of the killing of Revels.

Blood on Clothing. E. R. Donaldson, of Washington, FBI technician, the concluding prosecution witness, testified that chemical tests disclosed blood stains in clothing allegedly worn by the defendants the night of the crime. Other federal witnesses produced evidence to definitely establish Chickamauga park as a government reservation, and thus place the case in federal court jurisdiction.

Weathers, taking the stand calmly related events he said led up to the crime, and described how he and his wife slew the 21-year-old Chattanooga. He quoted his wife as saying Revels had assaulted her during a visit to her mother's home near Lytle, and of threats against their lives allegedly made later by Revels.

Story of Slaying. He and his wife were walking along a road near Lytle, he said, when Revels approached and threatened them. In the ensuing melee, he testified, Revels obtained the upper hand and forced him, at pistol point, to drive to a secluded spot in the park, accompanied by Virgie Weathers. There, he said, Revels repeated his threats against them. They fought again, he said, and Revels was slain. He and his wife bound the body, threw it into Chickamauga creek, washed the blood off the automobile, and returned to Chattanooga, where they burned the car, he testified.

Mrs. Weathers also related the story, asserting she and her husband were attacked and that they killed Revels in self-defense.

William Price, Weathers' uncle, and Price's wife both testified that Revels, during a visit to their home in 1935, threatened to "take every girl Roy Weathers got, take his wife when he got one, and then, if not satisfied, take his life."

SUSPECT ARRESTED HERE AS FORGER Man Listed as C. S. Brown Caught After Long Trail.

End of a money order forging trail that led to the major cities throughout the United States was believed found here yesterday by postal inspectors when they arrested a man listed as Charles S. Brown, 32, of Jacksonville, in a downtown hotel.

The inspectors allege the forger would obtain a small money order in one town payable in another. He would then travel to the next town to cash the check, having in the meantime increased the amount by changing the figures with an ink eraser.

Most of the money orders were cashed by either merchants or operators of filling stations, the inspectors said. The search for Brown began nearly a month ago and has taken the inspectors into Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana, they said. It is alleged that he operated in each of these states.

Brown came to Atlanta yesterday from Valdosta.

AMERICAN DANCER IS SLAIN IN FRANCE

Jean De Koven's Body Found as Exile Confesses Killing Four Others.

ST. CLOUD, France, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The body of Jean De Koven, a strangler's cord still cutting deep into her neck, was dug up by police today after a German fugitive confessed the pretty American dancer was the first of five victims he killed to get "money to eat."

Police were seeking a blond "mystery woman who spoke French only with difficulty." They expressed belief she had taken part in the killing of four men victims.

Eugene Weidmann, a German runaway from military service, led police to the isolated St. Cloud villa where he had lived more than four months with the 22-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., girl's body buried in the clay beneath the front porch.

"De Koven? From behind I strangled her—she fell like a rag doll," police quoted Weidmann as saying.

Murders Netted $1,000. Police said that the curly-haired German confessed quietly to slaying Miss De Koven, object of a nation-wide search since she disappeared July 25, and the four men, all of whom were shot in the back of the head. The murders netted Weidmann about $1,000, police said he told them.

Weidmann was captured at his villa last night. A gun fight ensued when a wounded policeman struck him down with the hammer. Weidmann had used to stun one of his victims.

Georges Berry, investigating magistrate at Versailles, said Weidmann told police he took the girl to his villa, kept her over night and strangled her the next day after they had shared a bottle of milk.

Weidmann, Berry declared, said both he and the girl were hungry, and the only food in the house was the milk.

Her fully-clothed body was encased in red clay when it was dug up from beneath the porch of Villa La Voultzie, which is set in a half acre of wooded ground on an isolated hill. Her hat was still on her head. Buried with her was a white leather pocketbook, half open, from which a fountain pen, pencil and some letters protruded.

Two Other Bodies Found. In the basement of the villa police found the body of Fritz Frommer, German Jew, who once was Weidmann's cell mate in a German prison, and Raymond Lesobere, the real estate agent for the villa. Frommer was killed on November 22, Lesobere on November 27.

The first of the men to be slain was a taxi driver, Joseph Coffey, on September 7. Roger Leblond, a broker, was killed on October 16.

It was after confessing the other slayings, police said, that Weidmann broke down and confessed the De Koven strangling.

"There is something else," he was quoted as saying. "Last July I did a terrible thing, but it is too terrible to tell you. I can not say it. Give me a pencil and a scrap of paper."

On the paper he wrote: "Jean De Koven."

"Yes I did it. Pardon me! "Miss Jean De Koven came of her own free will to my house in St. Cloud. We gossiped and smoked cigarettes together—then her handbag tempted me. From behind and with my hands I strangled her."

"She fell like a rag doll." Killed to Get Money. He told police he had arrived in France in May and worked at the Paris Exposition as an interpreter. He was unable to earn enough money to live, he said, and turned to murder.

Police traced Weidmann through a maze of aliases from his connection with Lesobere. Weidmann had made an appointment with the real estate agent at the villa, police said, and then shot Lesobere because he did not have the money for the rent.

GIRL'S MOTHER STUNNED BUT 'GLAD IT'S OVER' NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The family of Jean De Koven, American dancer, was stunned today by news of the slaying of the girl, who had been missing for four and a half months in France.

But her mother, her hair prematurely gray from worry, said "I'm glad it's over." The dancer's brother, Henry, 30-year-old theatrical director, bitterly accused Paris police of bungling the case.

Miss De Koven, a native of Boston, who studied dancing here and in Chicago, disappeared in Paris on July 23, her brother said, with a young, well-groomed man whose knowledge of English enabled him to assist her with her baggage.

They met at a Paris hotel and Miss De Koven, who had difficulty speaking French, agreed to an appointment with the stranger later.

Man's Watch Stolen 10 Feet From Officer TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Police just couldn't believe a prisoner was being robbed within 10 feet of the sergeant's desk, so Bill Lindley's cries for help went unheeded.

Bill finally convinced them and they rearrested John Starr, 25, released a few minutes earlier. Officers said they recovered Lindley's gold watch from Starr.

Insurance Idea Against Flunking Gains Trip for 2

Insuring students against flunking a college course was a good idea even if the company went extinct within three days.

And as a result the two Emory students who applied for a charter for Wells & Gordon Company have been awarded a trip to New York to tell of their insurance plan on "We, the People" program December 23.

The Lloyds of Emory are Lew Gordon and Jere Wells Jr. Their plan was to insure students passing a course or even making a high grade on it, for a price. Premiums were to be computed on the basis of the student's scholastic average in the past. A charter was petitioned for and then the fathers stepped in. Who would finance the company? The boys got cold feet, ceased business after selling one policy.

But, business or no business, the idea won a trip for two.

POSSUM CLUB VOTE UNCOVERS FRAUD

'Aunt Persimmon U. Pucker' Female Impersonator.

MEANA, Ark., Dec. 9.—(AP)—English Baker, 34-year-old Meana 'possum hunter, was re-elected president of the Polk County Possum Club on a second ballot tonight after an investigation of the first vote unmasked his mysterious opponent — "Aunt Persimmon U. Pucker"—as a female impersonator.

At the club's annual banquet amid a rustic setting, Aunt Persimmon led Baker and Raulston Crowder, of Texarkana—a campaigning as J. Crowder Pease—by a heavy margin on the first ballot.

Toastmaster Hal L. Norwood, former Arkansas attorney general, demanded an investigation which disclosed Aunt Persimmon to be Jack Darr, Meana musician and female impersonator.

Norwood immediately ordered the first ballot destroyed on grounds of "fraud" and a second vote put Baker back at the head of the 25-year-old club. More than 600 persons were present.

The election had brought the he-man of the club, last stand of mountaineer masculinity, from eight states to fight off the mysterious effort to place the organization under petticoat rule.

COLLEGE BODY WILL GO TO ST. LOUIS MEETING The Rev. Emmett S. Johnson, of Emory University, will head a delegation from Georgia colleges and universities to the first National Methodist Student Conference, to be held in St. Louis, December 28 to 31.

The conference will consider ways of making practical demonstration at colleges throughout the country of what it means to be a Christian.

Emory University will send five delegates to St. Louis, to complete a total of 19 students from Georgia colleges and universities.

G. M. A. BOY TO TAKE WEST POINT TESTS

Given Presidential Nomination to U. S. Academy.

Cadet William Anthony Mulvoy, 10, post-graduate student at Georgia Military Academy, College Park, yesterday was appointed by President Roosevelt to take entrance examinations March 1 to the United States Military Academy July 1.

He was the only presidential nominee from the south announced yesterday.

Mulvoy, son of a deceased World War veteran, is a native of Norwalk, Conn., was graduated from the Norwalk High school. He has been a special student at G. M. A. for the past two years, taking a preparatory course for West Point entrance.

Marriage License 'Bond' Proves Real

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Dr. A. Prostkoft went to chancery court today to annul his marriage of August, 1930, an event of which he was ignorant until this year.

Seven years ago Prostkoft was a medical student at the University of Tennessee here. He was in love with a girl and on a trip to Paducah, Ky., they took out a license to be used as a bond between them. Dr. Prostkoft admitted that both he and his sweetheart signed certain affidavits at the request of a justice of the peace. But only recently did he learn this constituted legal marriage in Kentucky.

The girl, also ignorant of the Kentucky ruling, later married another man. She now lives in New York city and has a seven-month-old baby.

'WONDER OF SOUTH,' HARTSFIELD'S PLANS FOR CYCLORAMA

Mayor Explains Purposes
in Proposed $37,185 Improvement.

Dramatization of the Cyclorama, "Battle of Atlanta," to make it "the outstanding tourist attraction of the entire south," was advocated yesterday by Mayor Hartsfield as he explained the program in a statement.

The mayor drew a vivid contrast with the present presentation of the painting with the projected improvements. He has asked a fund of $37,185 for the work and predicts it will be paid back into the treasury within the year by increased revenues.

Text of Statement.

Text of his statement follows: "In the minds of a very few people, there is some confusion as to what we are trying to do in the improvement of the Cyclorama.

"We would like to make it the greatest outstanding tourist attraction of the entire south. It is the largest three-dimensional picture in the world and as such deserves to be shown under ideal circumstances.

"It must be remembered that this picture is not a shrine or memorial. It was painted purely for exhibition purposes, not to be worshipped or venerated as a relic, but as a vivid portrayal of the Battle of Atlanta; indeed, for many years it toured the country in various fairs and midway before it was acquired by Atlanta through the generosity of G. V. Gress.

"As the picture now stands, it is viewed by the dim light of a few dirty skylights. Its marvelous colors are completely lost. The view of an old rusty iron roof completely destroys the illusion intended to be created by the picture.

To Insulate Roof.

"What we wish to do is to treat this roof in such a way as to insulate it from heat and cold. Then treat all the floor with sound absorbent material which will give the building a solemn atmosphere and do away with the hollow echoes which now give a barn-like effect to the interior.

"The picture will then be lighted with the most modern and artistic indirect lighting effects available for this specialized purpose. Light will be thrown down in such a way as to hide the roof and give the effect of actually standing in the midst of the battlefield.

"Instead of a lecturer elbowing his way through crowds and mumbling an explanation of the picture which few people can hear, a modern sound amplifying system will enable everybody in the building to hear plainly when the picture is described.

To Give Depth.

"Different highlights of the picture will be picked up and made to stand out by means of special high-powered lights which will give depth to the picture and add to the enjoyment of thousands who will view it.

"This modern and artistic lighting system will also enable us to show the picture at night, accommodating thousands of tourists and others, and almost doubling the revenue to the city of Atlanta.

"All of this will be done under careful supervision of an outstanding lighting specialist with a view of enhancing both the artistic and entertainment value of this great picture.

"I want the public to understand what we are trying to do so that no one will get the idea that we are proceeding blindly to do anything which might cheapen the picture.

"It must always be remembered that this picture was created for exhibition purposes and as such we can make it the most outstanding attraction of its kind in the entire world.

"If the general council will see fit to appropriate the money necessary, it will be back in the city treasury in increased admissions within a year's time, and in addition, we will have brought thousands of dollars into Atlanta from tourists drawn here to see this world wonder."

OIL FIRM UPHELD

Need Pay But $2,700 in Back Taxes.

Judge Virlyn B. Moore signed an order yesterday in Fulton superior court directing that the Wofford Oil Company need pay only $2,700 of the $16,800 in back taxes demanded of it by Georgia commissioners of revenue. The oil company asked an injunction against Commissioners J. B. Jones, of Hall county; W. B. Harrison, of Fulton county, and T. Grady Head, of Whitfield county, to restrain them from collecting wholesale license taxes for 1935, 1936 and 1937.

Petitioner contended that the business taxed was retail, not wholesale, and the judge sustained their argument, which applied to $14,100 of the amount in question.

O. C. Hancock, attorney for the oil company, and Oliver B. Hardin, defense attorney, agreed on the verdict. There will be no appeal.

RANGE EXTENDED

Weather Bureau Predicts
Weekly Forecasts Soon.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Dr. W. R. Gregg, chief of the United States Weather Bureau at Washington, said tonight improvements in research into long-range forecasting "justified hope that within a year or two the government would be able to make accurate weekly to 10-day predictions."

Today, by comparison, accurate forecasting is on practically a daily basis.

MY DAY

By Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—It is hard to believe here, where it is rather mild today, that upstate New York is enveloped in snow. But I suppose, as the paper predicts cold weather for the east and south, that by tomorrow we will also find winter weather here.

Ever since I read the account of how exhausted the birds are when they reach their destination after their migration from the north, I have wondered if there is any way in which their habits might be changed. Perhaps they would not mind the cold if we all saw to it that they had enough to eat. I think that besides feeding our squirrels this winter, we will get some advice on the best things to put out to attract and keep as many birds as possible.

I was much interested today in reading a dispatch from London by the Associated Press which stated that the 1937 edition of Jane's famous "All the World's Aircraft" ranked the United States air force the largest and "possibly the most efficiently equipped in the world."

This is not a fighting force, however. Other nations have stronger military forces, but it speaks well for our equipment and for our aviators.

Today I received a funny message from a gentleman who is interested in housing. It appears that on the day I spent in Cleveland, Ohio, I walked so fast and saw so much, I left everybody exhausted, particularly the poor newspaper photographers, who had to carry their heavy cameras around with them and who practically had to run from place to place. It is a mistake to learn to move about quickly when young, you never get over it!

Mr. De Lancey Kountze came down from New York to lunch with me and to ask me whether I would serve on a poster contest committee in which young artists are allowed to compete. I know I have no business to take on anything more, even for next May, but there is something rather exciting about seeing what young artists can do with an idea, and so I think I will serve.

Another gentleman came to see me about a foundation which he would like to start to make our young people realize the fact that the country now recognizes success as service to the community as a whole. I think he has the germ of a real idea, but whether his plan is a practical one remains to be seen. I believe a number of people will have to go over it before anything definite can be decided.

Today I saw the drawings for the idea which is to be used in the federal court of the World's Fair in New York city. The architects have conceived something really very beautiful and I look forward to seeing it carried out.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.
Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: Please explain this mystery to me. Here's a man 26 years old with a good position and a salary that could support a wife in fine style. He dates the girl three times a week. Everything he does indicates that he loves her and, although she hasn't put it in words to him, he is obliged to know she loves him, but he doesn't say a word. Why, oh why is he silent? PEG.

ANSWER: Well, Peg, an eligible man of 26 with a good job, no strings tied to him, has to be careful what he says or he will lose his liberty. He knows that if he says word one, "I love you," he will be expected to follow quickly with word two, "I want to marry you." If he's not ready to say word two, that old law of self-preservation, first law of life, comes into play. It is infinitely safer for him to keep his trap tight shut.

Maybe, too, he is taking advantage of the well-known fact that the female brain believes what it wishes to believe. You see love being the principal matter with which a young girl is concerned, she falls easily in love and thereafter assumes that the man in question loves her. If he says nothing she ascribes his silence to timidity. If he says "nothing doing," she argues that his actions belie his words. So long as he settles regularly she has the settled conviction that he has a motive—that motive being marriage. But—between the girl's goal, which is invariably the altar, and the man's goal, which is frequently the good time, there's a vast playing field.

Of course a man's silence is more eloquent than his actions. He's not slow in speaking up and asking for a permanent date, once he's sure he wants it. He's not backward about declaring himself in after he has figured the pros and cons of marriage to a certain girl and found that the figures add up. Yet all the king's horses and all the king's men can't induce him to speak if the figures haven't added up to his satisfaction. So there is no mystery, is there?

One Perfume House Presents Christmas Gifts Individually Wrapped and Ribbon-Tied

By LILLIAN MAE.

For this Merry Christmas, a manufacturer whose name has for many, many years been synonymous with the best of perfumes, distinguishes himself by presenting an inspired new gift idea. Individual items of eau de cologne, toilet water, bath salts, and even talcum; exquisite bottles of fine perfumes, graceful flasks of eau de toilette—even the little flacons that will hang from the best-dressed Christmas tree—have been individually wrapped and ribbon-tied in gift packages that stamp the graciousness of personal care on every single item—and there is no extra charge for the exquisite wrappings.

They're all ready for a Christmas card, even the perky bow of real silk ribbon that nods a merry greeting to a lucky person. One of these packages will "bless him who gives, and her who receives." And the donor will also bless the thoughtful manufacturer who has relieved him of this bugaboo of package-wrapping, making more generous his spirit and less weary his hands when the glad day of Christmas dawns.

All the old reliable fragrances of this well-known house are included—those which fit the every mood: some of fickle lightness, lovely as skin perfumes, and others which, touched to furs and the winter wardrobe, give those garments an illusive sweetness which lasts for many evenings.

A tip to you, men! Don't buy just any odor when making a purchase for the best girl, the wife, mother or daughter. After all, that's why a single manufacturer puts out different types of perfumes. So, in order that you may fit the type and fragrance to the person individually, let me help you to make the "just right" purchase.

Phone me at my office in the Constitution building for the name of the manufacturer, the proper fragrance for your recipient, and the stores at which these beautifully wrapped packages of perfume and other toilet articles may be purchased. I'll be delighted to help you.

THE PALACE OF THE VATICAN

The Vatican is the largest palace in the world. It is the home of the pope, and contains paintings and statues, museums and libraries of value untold. As I walked through hall after hall, room after room, my wonder grew. I had known the Vatican contained a rich store of art treasures, but did not expect to see such a vast number of them. Passing from one room to another, you can walk for miles while in the building.

An officer of the Swiss guard in the Vatican.

The official Vatican guide book says the palace contains "about 1,000 rooms, halls and chapels." It is not a single building, but a group of closely-joined buildings. Counting the courtyards, these buildings cover almost 14 acres of ground.

To reach the offices of the Secretary of State, on the third floor of the Vatican, a visitor must climb stairways with 294 steps. Along the way, he sees guards dressed in different ways. The Swiss guards are the best known, but there are also Palatine guards

HEALTH TALKS

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

SO YOU DON'T LIKE OUR WEATHER?

News item tells of enactment of an ordinance in Cincinnati, "limiting to 15 degrees the differential between the temperature of any air-conditioned building and the temperature outside." At last somebody is doing something about the weather. The term "differential" in this item should not bother you—it means difference, but sounds more scientific. The Cincinnati ordinance was enacted in the summer time and can no doubt be amended in winter comes. In the summer time throughout the south and the east where heat and humidity commonly cause discomfort and distress, tending to injure health and lower efficiency, air-conditioning is as desirable in homes, offices, stores, churches and theaters as it is on transcontinental trains and in passenger ships plying southern waters. Such equipment built in or installed filters, circulates and humidifies too dry air or dries too damp air, and so contributes to the comfort, health and efficiency of occupants or patrons, incidentally it keeps rugs, draperies and upholstery clean—by removing excess of dust—and saves furniture from shrinking and falling apart.

In the winter time air conditioning is still more important for its well recognized prophylactic value against cold. Oh, pardon me, but "Call it C" is the name of a booklet in the Little Lessons series, which tells you how to prevent common respiratory infections—"colds" to sounders who like to spread 'em—and sets you back 10 cents coin and a stamped envelope bearing your address. Air-conditioning in the winter time not only has this prophylactic value but operates as a guardian or regulator of fuel consumption. It uniformly lowers the fuel bill.

In any building, house or room artificially heated by whatever method, it is both advisable and practicable to condition the air at least to the extent of evaporating a few gallons of water every day, for the purpose of preventing the evil effects of the extreme dryness of winter air when so warmed up. Rosenau (Preventive Medicine and Hygiene, Appleton, New York, 1927) says that outdoor air in winter at zero temperature and 50 per cent relative humidity, when heated up to 70 degrees will have only 3 per cent relative humidity. This is drier than the air of the driest climate known. Average relative humidity in Death Valley, California, is 23 per cent, and has been found as low as 9 per cent in the Libyan desert. Relative humidity is the ratio the amount of moisture in the air bears to the amount the air can hold at given temperature when saturated. For the air of

After their visit included at Rockledge, Mrs. R. and Mrs. Hearn will motor to Miami to visit Dr. and Mrs. R. Bricker at their Pine Drive home on Miami Beach.

MOTHER of three sons who lives in the east was given a gorgeous diamond at the birth of her fourth child. The stones were set in an efficient ring, and each son, grew up, was promised one of the beautiful diamonds to seal engagement to the girl of his choice.

The point of this story is that of the diamonds recently its way to Atlanta and now is the fourth finger of the hand of a lovely Atlanta. The wedding is set for but you will probably read the engagement in January.

The prospective bride is one pair of popular sisters. She died Washington Seminary, which she traveled extensively in Europe. She is exceedingly gifted along artistic lines spends much of her time painting the study of art.

The gentleman in question graduated from Tech last June is now in business in Chicago. He came to Atlanta to do Thanksgiving and to present the ring to his fiancée. Upon arrival he made straight for the maternity house, and not being able to keep his happy secret—would you believe it?—he each of his "brothers in the law" a peep at the diamond before the bride-elect had slipped it.

RAYFIELD, the name of the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mobley, of Columbus, being erected on the Blue Ridge road, some 24 miles from Atlanta. On the first of January, Mr. and Mrs. Mobley and their son, will move their new home, which adjoins the Cason Callaway estate. The house is being built of native stone and rough timbers, and owns a high hill commanding an excellent view of Pine mountain.

Mrs. Mobley, a well-known playwright, will write a play at Rayfield and will complete the writing of the historical novel upon which she has been engaged for some months. She is a prominent clubwoman and will keep in touch with the activities of the Columbus organization. Mr. Mobley, a well-known realtor, will raise Hereford cattle in the green meadows surrounding Rayfield.

The bride entered with her father, T. M. Coker Sr., and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, T. M. Coker Jr., brother of the bride. Very Feminine Gift Suggestions

A lovely gift is this slipper satin fitted coat with puff sleeves and collar trimmed in self-cording. It has a fitted panel back and comes in aqua, tea rose, dusty pink, wine and royal. About $11.

To the chubby little miss of four or six who likes to wear the same grown-up styles as mother, give this adorable robe—top, left—of rayon celanese with satin stripe in either blue or tea rose. About $3.00. Or if she's two, four or six she'll love the rayon satin pajamas in tea rose. About $3. A really beautiful bed coat—above—at very little price is this quilted satin one with contrasting pastel lining. It's ideal also to wear down for breakfast. About $6.00. Another welcome gift is this cocktail slip in satin and lace. About $2.00. A quaint gown with puff sleeves, trimmed in val lace and tiny velvet bows. In tea rose, dusty pink, blue and ivory satin. About $4.00.

Forecast of Fashion's Trend

By JACQUELINE GREENE.

Do you have a "change-about" dress as an indispensable item of the winter wardrobe? A basic dress, say, of black crepe? A good beginning. Then with a snap-in vestee you are ready for the luncheon dates. Second, you must have a white embroidered giraffe for the corselet look and third, a pair of rhinestone clips—and you are practically ready for any occasion.

You're going to see more pastels this season in cruise and resort coat and suit lines where white, although still outselling any single pastel, has diminished to some extent in demand. Some general endorsements are: The collarless coat; tuxedo fur treatments, so popular in winter coats, fur sleeves in new variations and boxy lines.

Bahama blue—a soft, dusty shade—is important among pastels. Close second is Gauguin rouge—a soft rose with slight mauve overtone.

Color contrast is slated to become more and more important with the advance of spring. A very favored contrast treatment will be the use of tubular chiffon scarfs and breast pocket kerchiefs—so you can try them out in your favorite color combinations.

"Topper" will mean something more this season than one perfectly grand book written by that master of comedy, Thorne Smith. Slip down and buy yourself some concentrated glamour in an exotic topper of golden metal mesh (to be worn like a long kerchief about your neck). Its shimmering folds will catch the lights and accent that certain gleam in your eyes.

Its a grand gesture to step-up a too sombre dress. You might like to try with it a golden metal mesh belt to match.

Time on your hands? Here's something to do with it. You can purchase a scarf and have it initialed while you wait—men's and women's scarfs with three-letter monogram. They make most acceptable Christmas gifts!

For women they can be had in white, black, royal, gold, aqua, rust, wine and brown with contrasting initials. For men they can be purchased with deep fringe, in white, wine, navy, grey and tan—and it's fun to watch the initials being burned on by a girl who looks as though she's running a pressing machine.

Mainbocher really wants you to be glamorous! He has designed the most wonderfully flattering fashion any creative mind ever invented—a magic weave of self fringe from shoulder to knee—all black and stunning. You remember "Tallulah" Bankhead in her fringe dress—as she played in "Reflected Glory" don't you? This might give you some idea and incidentally put you in frenzy for fringe!

When colors don't match—that's news! If you're crazy for a high-style novelty—here 'tis. A pair of gloves with each glove in a different color teamed with a half-and-half scarf.

Take more than a passing glance at the pencil-straight or string bean dresses. This doesn't mean that its the end of the full-skirted frocks, however. It seems that it's a season of directly opposed styles. You'll see both straight and very flared ones.

Short sleeves are distinctly correct this winter. In soft afternoon dresses you see them, as well as the elbow and three-quarter lengths, and usually they are shirred somewhere.

The hoary old wise heads of the fashion world got together and did something about the dress that one can wear to an "anytime-after-five" party and to dinner afterwards. There's a "little velvet sports frock" created expressly for this purpose. A "don't dress-for-dinner," you know. Straight length green but with more of a grey cast. Another is "Saracen Head Green," a very yellowish shade and so named because it is the color Maid Marian (Olivia) wears when she visits the Saracen Head Inn. "Maid Marian Blue" is a soft shade of turquoise which Milo declares the perfect tone for love scenes in the moonlight.

Ozzie Nelson is back in town making a big hit at the Victor Hugo, and is Harriet Hilliard happy! Most of the screen celebrities in town came to his opening, but none was more beautifully dressed than the missus.

Harriet wore a soft grey crepe with short shirred sleeves and shirred waistline with a narrow self-material belt tying in front. Her sandals were grey satin and her luxurious wrap of cross fox. There were gay splashes of color in her bright red velvet bag, her diamond brooch and her moonstone bracelets which also flashed diamonds and rubies.

Sally Eilers wore a deep garnet velvet gown modeled on period lines under a sweeping cape of the same material. The richness of the velvet served as an exciting background for her heavy beaded gold jewelry, consisting of heavy necklace and single bracelet.

Veda Ann Borg wore a flattering gown combining black sequins and tulle, over black taffeta. The fitted bodice which ended in a low waistline was solid

Hollywood Looking Glass

For many years green has been the color film stars spurned. Actresses who came from the stage were superstitious about it. A green dress doomed a picture to failure. Other players merely considered green unbecoming. Priscilla Lane is the first to come out with the psychological excuse that it makes her feel uncomfortable. Since green had no particular photographic qualities in black and white costume designers made no attempt to sell it to the stars. However, now explodes the bombshell that green is the darling and the pet of Technicolor.

Milo Anderson, who did the color-costumes for Warner Brothers' "Gold Is Where You Find It," and again for their "Adventures of Robin Hood" had declared green to be the most thrilling color on the technicolor chart. Having the brightness of yellow and the shadows of blue in its makeup, green seems to be all the technicolor film wants.

All the materials Olivia De Havilland wears in "Robin Hood" were dyed under the personal supervision of Milo. Consequently he has produced some new colors, two of them luscious greens, which are destined for tremendous popularity. One is a "Robin Hood Green," similar to the old Lincoln Green but with more of a grey cast. Another is "Saracen Head Green," a very yellowish shade and so named because it is the color Maid Marian (Olivia) wears when she visits the Saracen Head Inn. "Maid Marian Blue" is a soft shade of turquoise which Milo declares the perfect tone for love scenes in the moonlight.

Ozzie Nelson is back in town making a big hit at the Victor Hugo, and is Harriet Hilliard happy! Most of the screen celebrities in town came to his opening, but none was more beautifully dressed than the missus.

Life was going along peacefully, I was minding my fashion business, it was all pretty dull. Flash! Along comes a seething 'this vs. that' issue to grind teeth over. But this time it's not the annual male vs. female, blonde vs. brunette not Gable vs. Taylor setto—it's the hairdressers vs. milliners. Cosmetologists insist upon whisking waves upwards, curling piled high (like Madeleine Carroll's in "It's All Yours"); while milliners, the rebels, continue to design toques perpetuating pageboy bobs (i. e., Phyllis Brooks in "Dangerously Yours"). So the fight's on and life quakes again.

Better than a soapbox speech is Lola Lane's rally to the milliner's platform. In "Hollywood Hotel," Lola's pageboy, worn with a fur-cuffed crossack hat, is a propaganda by itself. The hat twosomes a red cloth bell-flared coat (Paquin's pattern) with facade of sheared beaver. Priscilla ("Last Gangster") Lawson and Virginia ("Rosalie") Grey both remain long-haired Alice-in-Hollywood. And so Priscilla bobs out of a gray jersey muezin turban to match a tailored frock, warmed up by sleeveless jacket of kimmer; Virginia's waves unfurl loosely from a black velvet Dache saucer beret, touching off a Persian lamb jigger coat. The note of Ginny's flapperdom emerges in an ascot of screaming parrot feather colors.

LIANS BELIEVED EPARED TO QUIT AGUE OF NATIONS

Quarters Indicate That Council May Announce Resignation.

ME, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Indications from high quarters tonight the Fascist grand council, named for one of its dramatic light sessions Saturday, might announce Italy's resignation from the League of Nations.

However, official confirmation lacking of the widespread belief that Premier Mussolini had decided on such action, often read imminent since the league had sanctioned Saturday night the Ethiopian war.

Diplomats speculated as to whether withdrawal from the league—if it comes—would mean Italy had given up hope of coming to terms with Britain and France over his African conquests and his position in the Mediterranean.

The diplomats expressed belief Mussolini had cast his lot wholly with Germany and Japan, both recently linked with Italy in the Rome tripartite anti-communist pact.

Japan resigned from the league in 1933 because of the league's condemnation of her conquest of Manchuria and establishment of "independent" state of Manchukuo. Germany withdrew in claiming she was not accorded equal rights with other nations.

KNAPING JANITOR TS 35-YEAR TERM

operator and Importer.

DOUGHERPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A county jury found Julius Redlich, 60-year-old operator of the Berkshire Country Club, a Manhattan wine importing firm and a Florida resort, guilty of kidnapping a 36-year-old New York apartment house janitor who was sentenced by County Judge J. Gordon Flannery to 35 years in Sing Sing.

Redlich, kidnapped by a masked man, was taken to a cave near Brook, but later was freed by a doctor.

P. HUTCHINGS, 65, DIES IN MACON HOME

MACON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—C. P. Hutchings, 65, one of the old-time telegraph operators of Macon was found dead in the bathroom of his home at the Biltmore Apartments this morning.

Two of his sons, Billy and Erno, are employed in the circuit department of the Macon Telephone and Evening News.

A doctor, who was called to the apartment, said Mr. Hutchings had been dead about four days. It was believed a heart attack caused his death.

Mr. Hutchings was a telegrapher on the main office of the Central Georgia railway here, where he had been employed for years. He had the Central's service here since 1913, but previous to that had served as a railroad and telegraph operator and had worked in other offices.

Disabled Veterans Will Sponsor Big Brother Radio Show Tonight

Director Skipper of Municipal Chorus Arranges Vocal and Instrumental Program by Some of Atlanta's Leading Talent as Distress Calls Increase.

Following the schedule of nightly Big Brother broadcasts over station WATL by Atlanta veterans' organizations, tonight's program will be sponsored by the Morton T. Nichols Chapter No. 28, D. A. V., Big Brother Faber Boller, program director, announced yesterday.

Under the direction of Clifford Skipper, well-known Atlanta tenor and director of the Atlanta Municipal Chorus, the voice and instrumental selection will range from old favorites to semi-classical. Some of the city's leading musical talent has volunteered to entertain in this fifth annual Christmas fund campaign.

Enlistments, contributions and general enthusiasm continue to advance, General Chairman A. L. Bello said last night, and it looks like many of Atlanta's poor will be cared for this season. "Scores of letters asking for aid have come to Big Brother headquarters during the past few days," the chairman said, "and they have warmed now-working Brothers to an even greater realization of their task."

Volunteers Needed.
W. M. Gilleland, chairman of the paper sales committee, said there still was time for enlistments to the rapidly filling ranks for the selling of the special edition of The Constitution on December 19. "We need you," Big Brother Gilleland urged. "Fill out the coupon and send it to headquarters, 38 Peachtree street. Just two hours of your time will be taken—think how many hours of happiness that will mean to some needy family."

The Pep Club of Washington Seminary showed its prowess as announcer, who has been working overtime for the Big Brother programs. Lower left, Ralph Carroll, WATL staff member, holding the microphone for the young singer, Thomas Gibbs Fowler III. Lower right, Irving Melser, accordionist; Perry Bechtel, banjoist; Catherine Boswell, pianist; Coot Franklin, crooner, and Yvonne Belmont, blues singer. Big Brothers will broadcast again at 8:05 o'clock tonight.

Exciting Undersea Film Is Paramount Offering

A thrilling story of life on an undersea boat comes to the screen when "Submarine D-1" begins a week's engagement.

Principal roles will be played by Pat O'Brien, George Brent, and Wayne Morris, who leaped to film prominence in "Kid Galahad." Through the co-operation of the United States navy, the film is authentic as far as atmosphere is concerned.

The plot is an exciting one, showing how men are rescued from a rammed submarine through the inventions of the heroes. There's a romance, too, to make the fare completely satisfying.

'Awful Truth' Enters Fourth Week at Rialto

That rollicking comedy, "The Awful Truth," moves into its fourth hilarious week at the Rialto theater today, where it has found extreme favor with Atlanta audiences.

The film features Irene Dunne and Cary Grant in the leading roles. Ralph Bellamy is seen in a lesser part, while the lovable pup, "Skipper," of "Thin Man" fame, contributes to the fun. Leo McCarey directed and produced the film, written for the screen by Vina Delmar, famed author of the novel, "Bad Girl." Humorous situations and snappy lines make "The Awful Truth" one of the year's best pictures.

A variety of short subjects is also on the bill.

'Last Gangster' Stars Edward G. Robinson

Edward G. Robinson, famed for screen roles depicting underworld characters, comes to Loew's Grand theater today in his latest starring vehicle, "The Last Gangster."

The picture tells an exciting tale of prison life. In the cast, besides Robinson, are Rose Stradner, Viennese actress, and James Stewart, who enacts the role of a young newspaperman.

Miss Stradner, new to American films, is seen as the trusting girl who marries Robinson. The film contains excellent acting and direction, with swift-paced dialog adding to the general high quality.

Howard, Bette Davis Team Again at Fox

Leslie Howard and Bette Davis team again in "It's Love I'm After," romantic comedy, which starts today at the Fox theater.

Also in the cast is beautiful Olivia de Havilland, Archie Maynor directed, from a scenario by Casey Robinson, based on the novel of Maurice Hanline.

Howard and Miss Davis, seen previously in "Of Human Bondage" and "The Petrified Forest," prove ideal teammates in this light and entertaining picture, which revolves around the lives and loves of stage people.

3 Theaters To Give Benefit Programs

The Temple theater, 456 Cherokee avenue and the Fairview theater, 657 Fair street, will present a special matinee show at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The admission will be any toy, old or broken, that can be repaired. These toys will be turned over to various agencies for distribution to underprivileged children.

9 DIE SCREAMING IN KNOXVILLE FIRE

2 Women, 7 Children Perish
as Flames Block Exit
From Tenement.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Two women and seven children died screaming with pain and fear early today in a drab, two-story frame tenement house wrecked by fire.

Flames and smoke blocked the only exit—a single boxed-in stairway—to trap the victims on the second floor. There were 20 other men, women and children crowded in the house "across the railroad tracks" in a poor section of north-west Knoxville. They barely escaped.

Leap to Safety.
The fire, apparently starting from a defective flue, spread with such terrifying suddenness that many leaped to the frozen ground from second-story windows—clad only in night clothes and undergarments. Several suffered minor injuries.

Firemen dug into the still-burning ruins to drag out the charred bodies. They found the last one—that of a child—after searching five hours.

Death List.

The dead:
Mrs. McKinley Conatser, 35, and three of her children, Luther, 12; Virginia, 8, and Valies, 4.
Mrs. Cora Tate, 56; her son, Eugene Tate, 17, and her three grandsons, R. L. Melton, 12; Junior Melton, 6, and James Earl Melton, 9.

McKinley Conatser, 34, a newspaper vendor, jumped to safety with his five-months old baby in his arms.

Romero To Play Hero In Next Capitol Film

Forsaking heavy roles and embracing the part of a romantic hero, Cesar Romero plays opposite lovely Phyllis Brooks in "Dangerously Yours," which begins a week's run Sunday at the Capitol theater.

Also billed for the opening day is a diverting and fast-moving stage show, "Gems of 1938," a new revue with a large cast of vaudeville favorites.

WOMAN AVIATOR EXCELS OWN MARK

Jacqueline Cochran Flies at 252.875 Miles an Hour.
MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9.—(P)—Jacqueline Cochran bettered her own American mark for a 100-kilometer closed course today by flying a lower international woman's airplane speed record of 252.875 miles an hour, set by Helen Bouché, of France.

She flew her pursuit ship up to Deerfield and back, through poor visibility, at an average of 252.875 miles an hour, compared with her old American record of 203 at Los Angeles last July.

Instrument trouble balked her in an attempt at the record yesterday and again this morning. She said she would abandon her effort to break the world record for the present and return north tomorrow.

MACHADO DEFENSE GETS NEW LAWYER

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(P)—General Gerardo Machado, former president of Cuba, today retained Albert Boardman Kerr, author and lawyer, as counsel for his defense against extradition to Cuba.

Kerr will co-operate with Francis A. O'Neill at a United States commissioner's hearing tomorrow.
The defense, it was understood, would be that the charges, misapplication of public funds and mass murder, were of a purely political nature and therefore not applicable to extradition.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—(P)—Lord Milford Haven, 45-year-old great-

Mehre Reportedly Gets Offer To Coach at Big Ten School

A GUEST COLUMN

By Al G. Smith

Editor's Note: In the absence of Ralph McGill, today's guest column is written by Al G. Smith, publicity director at Louisiana State University.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 9.—A 400-pound Bengal tiger the playful look of a mischievous kitten and the potential destructiveness of a keg of dynamite has made this college press regret he didn't start out as a wild animal trainer. Mike the Tiger, mascot of the Louisiana State University football team, has become one of my major enthusiasms during the past few months.

The big Bengal, housed in a palatial $3,500 home on the edge of the football practice field here, is the handsomest wild animal this lover of circuses ever has seen.

It would be swell if we could lead Mike around on a leash, the only way that would be safe would be for everyone to be good lead—say about a mile.

Mike, two years old October 10, has been here since last fall but no one ever has been on the same side of the bars with him since L. S. U. students raised $750 to buy him from a Little Rock (Ark.) zoo last fall.

He looks like a peaceful kitten as he plays about the big attached to his concrete house, but one swipe of his ham-paws would put the recipient's family into mourning.

Mike, who attends L. S. U. football games in his trailer cage, is a year-round drawing card at Baton Rouge. This observer has counted 100 visitors at his cage on a Sunday afternoon. Many were from out of town and some were from other states.

He's quite a drawing card at football games, too. L. S. U. is its October home games at night. After one of them a Louisiana woman wrote Coach Bernie Moore to complain about being able to see Mike in his cage at night. She suggested letting it electrically.

The tiger already has outgrown his trailer cage, purchased when he was a cub, so now they're building him a new trailer—and it'll have electric lights.

A seven-year-old boy getting washed behind his ears is a far cry from the peaceful kitten as he plays about the big attached to his concrete house, but one swipe of his ham-paws would put the recipient's family into mourning.

Mike roars angrily when Higgy, safely on the other side of the bars, turns a big hose on him.

I could go on talking about Mike for a couple of columns, but perhaps I'd better stop now. It was only a couple of days ago that a friend uptown suggested to me: "If you like that tiger so much, why don't you move in him?"

MIKE CHAMBERS.

A blond Irishman whose stocky figure was familiar to football fans who attended Georgia Tech games in the 1929-1934 season was responsible for bringing the tiger to L. S. U.

MICHIGAN GIVES HARRY G. KIPKE WALKING PAPERS

Mehre Hasn't Been Offered Job, Says Athletic Head.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 9.—(P)—The University of Michigan, one of football's strongholds since the turn of the century, was in the market for a new coach tonight.

Harry G. Kipke, one-time All-American pupil of Fielding H. Yost, was notified today by the university board in control of athletics that his contract would not be renewed when it expires on June 1, 1938.

Harry Mehre, resigned head coach at the University of Georgia, has not received an offer for the position, Ralph Aigler, Michigan athletic board chairman, stated. He said if Mehre asks for an interview, he will get one the same as other "qualified candidates."

Kipke served as head coach at Michigan for nine years, during which his team won 46 games, lost 25 and tied four. In the last four years, his eleven have been unable to hit winning strides.

The board gave no indication as to Kipke's successor, merely announcing a committee had been selected to interview "qualified coaches" who might apply for the job.

Kipke said the announcement was a distinct shock and that he had not made any plans for the future. He intimated he would consider several offers he had received to enter business.

Dismissal of Kipke, who is president of the American Football Coaches' Association, marks the only change in the Western conference coaching lineup since the 1937 season ended.

After an average season in 1937 in which his team won five and lost three, Kipke embarked on a winning streak that lasted until 1934. Michigan tied for the conference title in 1930 and 1931 and captured it outright the next two years.

JOE HALL WINS EMORY TROPHY

To Joe Hall, star sophomore halfback, again goes the Emory Wheel's most valuable player trophy.

Hall was selected by the vote of his teammates and a committee composed of the four coaches of the class teams in the intramural league and the sports editor of the Wheel.

Each team voted for its most valuable man. Then the committee of Coaches Peebles, Conyers, McCord and Candler, along with the Wheel writer, selected Hall from the four men nominated.

The seniors named C. A. May, star quarterback, as their best man. Woody Hubbell, back, got the nod from his junior teammates and Charlie Barnwell, another back, was the freshmen's choice.

Hall, the winner, is a triple-threat back. It was the second time that he had captured the award which was inaugurated last year.

Sophs, Seniors Place Four on All-Emory Team

Emory sophomore and senior eleven, co-champions of the 1937 intramural grid league, placed four men each on the annual All-Emory team selected by the four class team coaches and approved by the athletic council.

On ends were named Jack Booser, sophomore, and George Cooper. At tackles were two sophomores—Joe Dawson and Norman Joendeph. Abe Seitz and Charlie Bailes, two senior guards, gained spots on the mythical team.

One man from each squad was named for the backfield posts. C. A. May, junior quarterback; Joe Hall, sophomore half; Woody Hubbell, junior half, and Charlie Barnwell, freshman fullback, comprised the All-Emory backfield.

All of the eleven men selected on the mythical team will be awarded "E's."

$10,000 Golf Meet Will Start Today

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 9.—(P)—Practice scores of 60-something strewn all over the Miami Biltmore tonight, indicated the new 14-club limitation wasn't going to bother the boys a bit in the $10,000 golf tournament starting tomorrow.

The open will provide the first test of the United States Golf Association's new rule limiting the number of clubs the golfers can play with—a source of grumbling to some of the pros but a swell break for the caddies.

The best practice score today was a shining 67, 4 under par, by Dick Metz, of Chicago, who has played little golf since he was injured in an automobile accident at Tampa last year. Ed Oliver, of Wilmington, Del., carded 68 and several pros cracked par.

COHEN ACCEPTS ASSISTANT POST UNDER HUBERT

Old Vandy Star To Scout for V. M. I. Next Year.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Dec. 9.—(P)—Henry Russell (Russ) Cohen, former head football coach at Louisiana State and Cincinnati universities today accepted a position as an assistant coach and chief scout at Virginia Military Institute, at Lexington.

He will succeed Jack Alexander, former Duke star, who will resign next June. Allison T. S. (Pooley) Hubert, former University of Alabama backfield ace, is head coach at V. M. I.

Cohen, who makes his home here, said he had not coached this season since the middle of October when he resigned at Cincinnati.

A graduate of Vanderbilt, Cohen served as an assistant on the coaching staffs of Vanderbilt, Alabama and Georgia before going to L. S. U.

BAN IS SOUGHT ON GRAHAM PLAN

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 9.—(P)—The News Leader said today 13 proposed amendments to the by-laws and one recommended change in the constitution will be considered by the 15 members of the Southern conference at their annual meeting here tomorrow and Saturday.

Most drastic of the proposals, the paper said, three made by Virginia Tech, two of which are aimed at Rule 13, the so-called Graham plan. Tech recommends that the entire Section 1 and Section 2 (b) be stricken from the by-laws.

Section 1 prohibits the awarding of scholarships, loans, jobs and other material considerations to athletes primarily as athletes, and puts further restrictions on an athlete's financial assistance.

Section 2 (b) of Rule 13 provides that all scholarship requirements shall be certified to by the appropriate officer in advance of competition.

Fencers To Decide Jacket Champions

Non-Military and Infantry teams are in the lead in the Georgia Tech fencing round robin at the end of four days' play, each team having won three matches and lost none. They will meet today to determine the champion.

Non-Military beat Navy, 5-4; Coast Artillery, second battalion, 6-3, and Coast Artillery, third battalion, 5-4, while Infantry defeated the Navy, 5-4; Coast Artillery, second battalion, 6-0, with three matches to be fenced.

Eichner, of Non-Military, is leading for individual honors with nine victories and no losses, followed by Bartha, of Infantry, with eight wins and one loss; Tally, of Infantry, with eight wins and one loss; Rittburger, of Coast Artillery, third battalion, with seven wins and three losses.

C. C. Davis, of Coast Artillery, second battalion, tops the first-year men with five wins and three defeats.

Sullivan Selected Richmond Mentor

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 9.—(P)—The resignation of Curtis Luckey, head football coach at the Academy of Richmond County for the past five years, was accepted by the academy athletic authorities tonight, and Wendell Sullivan, assistant coach, was named to the position.

Sullivan, his successor, who came to the academy last season, compiled an enviable record while coach at Decatur High school, Atlanta.

The question of an assistant coach will be decided later, athletic officials said.

MOST VALUABLE.

DELAND, Fla., Dec. 9.—(P)—Stetson University students have selected End Vincent Schaeffer, of Indianapolis, Ind., as the "most valuable" member of the 1937 football team.

BULLDOGS FACE MIAMI TONIGHT IN FINAL GAME

Players Ready to Win This One for Coach Harry Mehre.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9.—An injury line has trailed Harry Mehre persistently to the end of the trail as coach of the Georgia Bulldogs.

For, tomorrow night when the Bulldogs go out to brave the University of Miami Hurricanes, Jim Fordham, star sophomore fullback, can't play; Billy Mims can see only a little action and Buddy Miller appears unable to do little else than watch the game from the sidelines.

There hasn't been much mention made of Fordham's injury. The ram-like fullback suffered a bad knee injury in Tuesday's scrimmage and has been walking with the aid of a cane since. He's out. Mims has been suffering from a heavy cold all week and Miller, 158-pound center, hasn't been able to practice because of an injury.

CAPTAIN HARTMAN.

So the plan is to send Captain Bill Hartman back to his original position at fullback, with Lew Young, who is recovering from various injuries, at quarterback, and Honey Hunnicutt and Vassa Cate at halfbacks.

The line will embrace Otis Maffett and Knox Eldredge, a Miami boy, at ends; Stogie Davis and Tom Haygood at tackles; Pete Tinsley and Walter Troutman at guards, and Quinton Lumpkin at center. Lumpkin's old ankle injury still bothers him.

Georgia's not in the best of shape physically but it isn't expected to matter a great deal. The boys have determined to dedicate this final game to Coach Harry Mehre, and they figure that nothing can stop them.

NEW TEAM. Because of the injuries Coach Mehre rose to remark that the President of the United States, who will press a button to light the new $325,000 Orange Bowl stadium, has nothing on him. "I am going to press a button and start a team," Harry declared. "In fact," he added, "The way things are going I may press a suit."

The Hurricanes, coached by Jack Harding, professedly are ready for the invasion of the Bulldogs. They have a fine running back in Eddie Dunn, a triple threat, and Masterson, an end, who made the Associated Press little All-American.

Vernon (Catfish) Smith, who has coached the Hurricanes, rates them in a class with Clemson. Which means that the Bulldogs are in for a tough game.

HURRICANES STRONG. The Hurricanes have a lot of power, Smith declares. The kick off is scheduled for 8:30 and 20,000 spectators, largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Miami, is expected to be on hand for the dedication of the handsome new stadium.

Georgia and U. of Miami will dedicate it and Auburn and Michigan State will follow up with a New Year's Day battle in the impressive Orange Bowl.

Miami people put on a show for the Bulldogs today. They were met at the train by a band and accorded a motorcycle escort through the city to the pretentious Miami Biltmore hotel in Coral Gables, Georgia's headquarters.

Forest Fowler Has Top Bowling Score

Forest Fowler, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce league, turned in the top series of 341 for his league as he bowled games of 108, 104 and 129 to aid his Thompson & Company team in a three-game victory over Flowers Laundry last night.

Ralph Cutter was credited with the top single game score of 130, for the Jaycees.

With a high game of 102 and set of 283, Miss Hardy topped the Junior Chamber of Commerce ladies league in scoring with a volley of big scores being recorded in the play.

Martha Cleveland's 285 was the top score for the Federal Ladies bowling league in the matches that were bowled Thursday.

In a special match John Townley and Jimmy Warrington won the "overcoat bowling championship" over Fred Hucksaby and Ralph Sluss in a challenge tilt.

REPORT STATES TWOMEY TO GO AS ASSISTANT

Athletic Committee Members Refuse Comment on Mehre's Successor.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9.—Coach Harry Mehre, who, along with 16 seniors, ends his Georgia career in the Miami game tomorrow night, has received a fine offer from a Big Ten school, it was reliably reported today.

The Constitution's informant, who is close to the situation, was of the opinion that Mehre would give this offer first consideration.

"I am sure that Coach Mehre considers this offer a real opportunity—it's a head coach proposition—and I will venture to say that he does a great job," the informant said.

He let it definitely be understood that Coach Mehre was not seeking coaching employment in the south.

DROPS HINT.

Coach Mehre himself has dropped a hint here and there that he might be heading for "cold country."

The name of the school was not revealed. It will be known in due time. There is bound to be a lot of truth to the report because of the jovial attitude of Coach Mehre on this trip.

A former secretary, Coach Mehre has been having a lot of fun passing among the boys and saying, "Take a letter." In West Palm Beach he was all for signing a petition requesting the town to loan Atlanta some of its beautiful weather.

A hint as to part of the new coaching setup has been dropped. It is reported that Howell Hollis, former Athens High coach who scouted largely for the Bulldogs this past season, will become freshman coach and Johnny Broadnax will move into the ticket office. Hollis assisted with the freshmen when he wasn't off scouting.

HOLLIS IS SILENT. Questioned as to the possibility of this happening, Hollis was non-committal, in status quo et cetera.

Another angle to the Mehre offer is that, in the event he goes to a Big Ten school as head coach, he will take Ted Twomey with him as line coach.

Talk of Loyola and Mississippi State as schools where Mehre might go appears out of order. He is virtually certain to leave the south and accept the job that most appeals to him. Which is, of course, the Big Ten job.

Grant Rice Picks Hinkle, Bershak, Monksy, on All-America

SIMS, MAFFETT, JORDAN, LUMPKIN ARE MENTIONED

Frank Only Repeater; Frank, White, Chapman Get Every Vote.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Selections for Collier's 48th annual All-America football team, picked by a nation-wide board of experts headed by Grant Rice, were announced today. The team, a perpetuation of the All-America originally founded by Walter Camp, is as follows:

Ends: Andrew Bershak, North Carolina; Jerome Holland, Cornell. Tackles: Edmund Franco, Fordham; Vic Markov, Washington.

Guards: Leroy Monksy, Alabama; Joseph Routt, Texas A. & M.

Center: Carl C. Hinkle Jr., Vanderbilt.

Quarterback: Clinton E. Frank, Yale.

Halfbacks: Marshall Goldberg, Pittsburgh; Byron White, Colorado.

Fullback: Samuel Chapman, University of California.

In awarding the Walter Camp gold football to these players, the judges revealed that Frank, Chapman and White were the only unanimous choices of the Collier's board and the 50-odd coaches who were consulted. Frank, incidentally, was the only member of the 1936 All-America team to be named again this year, in commenting on the 400 teams and 16,000 players involved in the season's play, the judges said:

"In lining up the 1937 All-America the play of each man, including opposing strength, was thoroughly checked from the first game to the last. There was no prejudice, no partisanship, no angle of race, creed or color. Those who had shown three good years were given some advantage over others, practically as good, who had turned in only one or two years of high-class work."

Here is the final list from which the team was selected:

Centers: Hinkle, Vanderbilt; Brock, Nebraska; Wojciechowski, Fordham; Herwig, California.

Guards: Routt, Texas A. & M.; Monksy, Alabama; Daddio, Pittsburgh; Davis, Dartmouth; Miller, John A. Yale; Green, Harvard; Jacuski, Fordham.

Tackles: Bershak, North Carolina; Franco, Fordham; Markov, Washington; Smith, Oklahoma; Kinard, Mississippi; Maltus, Villanova; Shirey, Nebraska; Bartarsky, Fordham; Russell, Auburn; Lane, T. C. U.; Beiner, Notre Dame.

Ends: Holland, Cornell; Bershak, North Carolina; Wyss, Villanova; George, Georgia Tech; Schwartz, California; Benton, Arkansas; Smith, Oklahoma; Kinard, Mississippi; Maltus, Villanova; Shirey, Nebraska; Bartarsky, Fordham; Russell, Auburn; Lane, T. C. U.; Beiner, Notre Dame.

"The men who rated highest average this year from all opposing coaches were Frank, Hinkle, Chapman, White and Franco," the board of judges reported.

HONORABLE MENTION.

Ends: Spang, Cornell; Daddio, Pittsburgh; Davis, Dartmouth; Miller, John A. Yale; Green, Harvard; Jacuski, Fordham.

Tackles: Platt, Yale; John; Kevorkian, Harvard; Toll, Princeton; Berger, Navy; Van Rans, Cornell; Janus, Boston College; Maras, Duquesne.

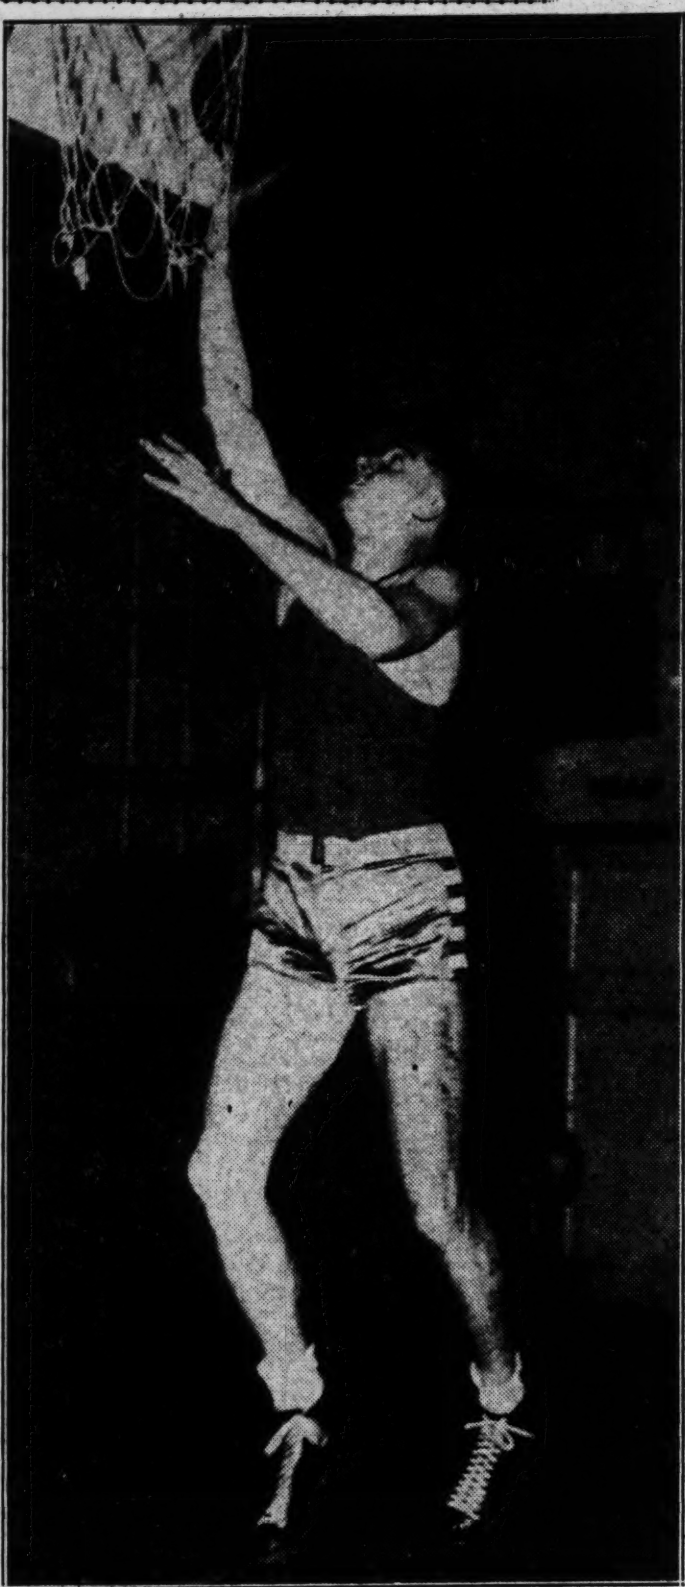

Guards: Allen, Harvard; Kaplan, Cornell; Wilson, Harvard; Zitrides, Dartmouth; Miller, Charles, Jr., Yale.

WALTER RIDDLE, PANTHER TACKLE, ON STAR ELEVEN

Birmingham - Southern Ace Only Southerner on 'Little All-America.'

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The 1937 Associated Press "Little All-America" football team may be little in name, but not in stature.

The team—five players from the combined south and southwest, three from the middle west, two from the east and one from the Pacific coast—averages better than 180 pounds over all. It has a line scaling 195 from end to end, and a backfield that, despite the presence of 160-pound Quarterback Burns McKinney, of Hardin-Simmons, Texas, averages 181 pounds. That competition among the brilliant 1937 crop of small-college backs was tough is attested to in the fact that the "Little All-America" backfield includes only one repeater, Captain Dick Riddle, of Albright. Paired with him and McKinney, the two-year undefeated Texans' climax runner and ace passer, are Wendell Butcher, of Gustavus Adolphus (Minn.) and Clay Calhoun, of Loyola of New Orleans.

The south and southwest, in addition to McKinney and Calhoun, also contribute a guard, Elmer Cochran, of Murray (Ky.) Teachers; the other tackle, 212-pound Walter Riddle, of Birmingham-Southern, and Center Wallace Johnson, a converted fullback who played for Austin (Texas) and was tops among linemen in the Texas conference.

SMALL CLASSIFICATION. All of the schools represented on the 1937 eleven fall into the true Little All-American classification, which means an enrollment of not over 1,000 boys and a football schedule largely confined to colleges of the same class.

Facts and figures on the Little All-America of 1937:

BOWL GAME HERE PLANNED IN 1939

The Atlanta Celebrations Commission plans to sponsor a football game here on New Year's Day in 1939 and not this season, Paul Stevenson, general agent of the commission, said yesterday.

Stevenson was quoted last night as saying a game was planned on New Year's Day if the Southeastern Conference rescinded a rule preventing conference teams from playing post-season games, except in the Rose and Sugar Bowls.

Stevenson said the commission planned such a game for January 1, 1939, for Atlanta if the rules were changed; that it was too late in the season to arrange a game for New Year's Day of 1938.

Governor Rivers renewed efforts to rescind the rule yesterday, advising conference members it put Atlanta on a "black list."

lay a finger on Coach Mehre's successor at Georgia. Two members of the committee of five—Harold Hirsch and W. O. Payne—are on the trip, but they are not talking for publication.

It all will be settled in due time. And there's no good reason right now for not stepping outdoors in shirt sleeves and lapping up a portion of good old Florida sunshine.

BIERMAN TO GET MAROON OFFER, REPORTS HAVE IT

Offer Reported Larger Than Present Minnesota Salary.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Coach Bernie Bierman, of the University of Minnesota, will be offered the position of head football coach at Mississippi State College, it was reported on good authority here tonight.

The decision to offer the post made vacant by the resignation of Lieutenant Colonel Ralph Sasse to Coach Bierman was understood to have been reached at a caucus of alumni leaders of the college here today.

Eighteen alumni and faculty leaders, including President Duke Humphreys, and other members of the athletic board, attended the conference and announced at its conclusion that they had pledged themselves to secrecy about what happened.

One member of the group said, however, that "it will be headlines when it breaks." He said the "break" would come probably in about four days.

It was reported that the "four days" would be the time required for a representative of the college to go to Minneapolis to personally present the offer to Bierman. The offer, it was reliably understood, would be an increase over the Minnesota coach's present salary.

Bierman was head football coach at Mississippi State in 1930, resigning to accept the head coach's job at Tulane, from where he went to Minnesota.

Whether Coach Bierman would accept the Mississippi State offer was a matter of conjecture here, but it was said that he had been contacted in preliminary negotiations. It was reported one of the prime considerations influencing him would be a desire to return to the south in the interest of his wife's health.

CADETS TO PLAY NORTH FULTON

G. M. A.'s basketball team will play North Fulton High this afternoon on the College Park court in a practice game. Another game with Jonesboro High is scheduled for next Tuesday night, after which the Cadets will end work until school resumes January 5.

Only Johnny Bosch and Captain Bill Polk returned from last year's varsity squad. Finkbeiner, a reserve last year, has been showing up at a guard post, with the remaining three positions wide open for newcomers.

Monsees, a new player and end on the football squad, has been looking good at center.

Coach Sam Burbage will use every player possible in the practice games and no attempt will be made to name the varsity squad until after the Big Eight schedule opens early in January.

Crackers Get Sunkel, Southpaw From Cards

Tom Sunkel, young left-hander from the St. Louis Cardinal farm system, has been sent to the Crackers, on option, it was announced Thursday by President Earl Mann.

Sunkel played in the Three-I league last year and certainly should produce for the Crackers next year, according to officials of the Cards. That's why he will remain the property of the St. Louis club. However, the Cards can't recall the strike-out artist till after the season is over.

until he took over the same job here early in 1935, suggested to students that they purchase the tiger as a means of increasing school spirit. The new mascot was named for Chambers in recognition of the big Irishman's suggestion.

Now the tiger is as much a part of L. S. U. football games as the 208-piece band—or the football team.

Chambers is as popular here as he was during his years at Georgia Tech. He's doing as fine a job of keeping L. S. U. athletes in shape as he did while training the Yellow Jackets.

RANDOM FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS.

Bernie Moore, whose L. S. U. track teams won five Southeastern conference championships until Georgia dethroned them last spring and whose football teams were conference titleholders in 1935 and 1936, spent five of the last 18 years in Georgia. He coached at LaGrange High school in 1919 and 1920 and at Mercer University in 1926, 1927 and 1928. . . . Rice was the best team L. S. U. played all year.

Bruiser Kinard, of Ole Miss, and Eddie Gatto, of L. S. U., are the two best tackles in the south. . . . Pinky Rohm, L. S. U. "scat" back, attended Riverside Military Academy at Gainesville. . . . Bernie Moore defines a "scat" back as a boy who runs like a scared cat when he gets a football in his hands. . . . Joel Hunt, L. S. U. backfield coach, is an immortal at Texas A. & M., where he was All-Southwest quarterback in 1925, 1926 and 1927. . . . Spike Nelson, line coach here, has a doctor of jurisprudence degree from Iowa, where he was an all-conference tackle in 1925, 1926 and 1927. . . . It was like old home week when Auburn and L. S. U. played here this season. Elmer Salter, Auburn publicity man, and this writer suffered in the press box just as we used to do at Auburn-Georgia games a few years back.

Ben Enis, end coach here since 1928, played on Alabama's first two Rose Bowl teams. . . . "Ears" Whitworth, another former Alabama star, whose 46-yard field goal in the 1931 Rose Bowl game set a bowl record, flies by plane to scout L. S. U. opponents in between his duties as head freshman coach. . . . Whitworth's freshmen, who got their heads clipped early this fall as did all other first-year men, defeated Ole Miss' freshmen 20-0 at Jackson two weeks ago. After the game some fans yelled at "Ears": "You can't fool us, Whitworth, you shaved the seniors' heads and brought them up here!"

S. E. C. May Oppose Sugar Bowl Tie-Up

Teams Don't Want To Kill Rose Bowl Invitations; Meeting Starts Today.

By KENNETH GREGORY.
JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Around hotel lobbies, as faculty representatives and athletic directors gathered for the annual Southeastern conference meeting, it developed today there would be considerable opposition to any move for a tie-up with the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

Early arrivals, pointing out there would be little advantage of aligning with the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, said a majority of schools would oppose the suggestion, which has some support from a few large institutions.

Joe Cox Beats Wally Dusek In Final

It was murder in the ring again last night at the Atlanta theater with Joe Cox, the bad man from Missouri, being convicted without a hearing. Using the same skull-breaking hold that tore open the scalp of Wee Willie Davis last week, Cox jerked Wally Dusek's head against the iron ring post with such force that the young Nebraskan was knocked colder than a school teacher's stare. The fall lasted 26 minutes and when Dusek tried to come back for the second fall, he lasted less than a minute against the two-fisted Joe.
It looks as if Frank Speer has a real job on his hands finding someone who can handle this Cox.
Ed Meske, who defeated Wee Willie Davis in a spectacular semifinal last night, might do it. Cowboy Luttrell and his pile driver would be a good bet, but is under contract to a big eastern promoter at the present, it is understood.

Dusek, second cousin of the famous Dusek brothers of Omaha, never had a chance. Cox had him dizzy from a hard right in the first 10 seconds and never let up.
Ed Meske, after a crushing defeat in the first fall, made a great showing in winning the last two.
The Ohio star used his barrel-roll and savage kangaroo kicks to topple the man mountain.

Jim Coffield and Mike Strelch were unable to reach a decision in a 30-minute match.

MAULDIN, LOPEZ BATTLE TONIGHT

Spring Street arena fans will see Gentleman John Mauldin, a favorite, battle Raoul Lopez, rough Mexican wrestler, tonight in a fast bout.

Lopez is one of the roughest light-heavyweights ever to come in this section. He has kicked such opponents as Bloomfield, Chin Lee, the Chinaman, and numerous others all over the ring.

Son Almand, the former steel worker, has been matched with Jack Bloomfield, Jewish star, in a scientific bout on the semi-final.
Almand has not lost a bout here since his return from Florida.

Mike Cassidy, the rough Omaha boy, will again make his appearance here. Promoter Frank Bettis will give Young Gotch another chance to stop this rugged mat-man. Gotch has been going fine since his return from eastern territory.

The Spring Street arena is located at the junction of Spring, Peters and Garnett streets. The arena will be well heated.

REALTORS DISCUSS HOUSING, BUSINESS AT ANNUAL PARLEY

Rail Official Assails Government Program at Savannah Meeting.

SAVANNAH, Dec. 9.—(P)—T. Mayhew Cunningham, railroad vice president, told the Georgia Real Estate Association today that the proposed national housing act is "another scheme to put government into business."

W. C. Gilbert Jr., president of the association, who also discussed the President's housing proposal in his annual report, declared "it is a wonderful time to be in the real estate business" and cited rental rises.

He said business blocks were filling with local merchants and expanding chain stores, while the government was using millions to encourage home building.

Fred Wessels, Savannah fire insurance executive, urged the realtors to establish an agency to collect statistics relative to economy in government.

Atlanta Speaks.

Robert Strickland, Atlanta banker, said Georgia "could well take advantage of building and loan plans of the federal government, providing the movement is managed carefully and conservatively by sound business leaders in each community."

He warned against exploitation of home owners by commercial builders of poorly constructed residences.

Cunningham said, "The President's proposal is to lend money for housing construction at a low rate of interest and up to 90 percent of the cost, and to encourage the formation of companies to build houses on a large scale so as to reduce the unit cost."

"It is fairly certain that if this policy is followed it will produce a state of indigestion in the housing industry."

Government in Business.

Cunningham added that "this is another scheme to put government into business, the inevitable effects of which will be to raise taxation and chill private initiative and enterprise."

"Real estate, like everything else," he continued, "is suffering from the false economic policies of the government. If the government would cease its interference with business and its efforts to dominate and control business, we would see a wonderful uplift in business."

Cunningham assailed the federal capital gains tax and the undistributed profits tax. He termed the latter "another monstrosity" and "a punishment for thrift and conservation."

"The social security act," the speaker asserted, "will bleed business to death."

Real Estate's Reality.

Cunningham declared that "in a world which is topsy-turvy, the only thing which is very real is real estate."

"We need not fear Communism or Fascism or any of the other evils if the land is fairly distributed," he added. "The moment a man owns a piece of land, he and his family have a stake in the country, for which he will fight."

Cunningham declared that "labor and business are inextricably bound together," and added, "if business is regimented, labor cannot escape the same fate."

"There is no royal road to recovery," he concluded. "We will not prosper except through hard work and thrift and through initiative and enterprise."

SIX SHIPS FOR BRAZIL TO BE BUILT IN BRITAIN

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 9.—(P)—The Brazilian government today signed a contract with three British firms for the construction of six destroyers at a total price of about $14,400,000.

The ships will be the same type as the British "H" class, with 1,350 tons displacement and 523 feet in length. The ships will be built by Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., John I. Thornycroft, and J. Samuel White and Company.

Police Tag Stolen Car; Make Owner Pay Fines

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(P)—Instead of recovering his stolen car, Theodore L. Kamille complained today, police busied themselves a month tagging it with parking tickets.

Kamille paid two $1 fines in traffic court for violations committed by the thief who stole his car on October 30.

Having recovered the machine last Friday, he said he paid the fines rather than go into a long explanation of why he shouldn't.

SHAW CASE LISTED FOR COURT TODAY

'Bug' Operator Must Show Why He Should Not Serve 5 Years.

Byron A. Shaw, convicted "big shot" Atlanta lottery operator, is scheduled to appear before Superior Court Judge E. E. Pomeroy at 11:30 o'clock this morning to show cause why suspension of a five-year sentence should not be revoked.

Swift Tyler Jr., Shaw's attorney, said yesterday that he "understands" that Shaw will be present to face the court.

The lottery operator pleaded guilty to September-October grand jury indictments charging lottery activity and received a $1,000 fine and five-year suspended sentence.

Suspension was on condition that he cease all criminal activities. Saturday Judge Pomeroy issued an order calling for Shaw's arrest for today's hearing after he had heard Shaw had been arrested by federal agents on a liquor charge. He had not been arrested last night, but officials of the Fulton solicitor's office said they were informed he would be in court today.

Also at large last night was C. J. Hazeltine, who with Shaw and 19 others received five-year suspended sentences on October 22, which suspension was revoked Saturday by Judge Pomeroy. The Fulton sheriff's office has orders to arrest him and turn him over to the county warden to serve out his term.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS WILL MEET TODAY

Club To Elect Officers, Get Campsite Deed.

Georgia Woman's Democratic Club will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Davison-Paxon tea room.

Following a report from the nominating committee, nominations for the three seats falling vacant on the board of directors will be presented from the floor.

The legislative committee will make recommendations for work to be done during the special sessions of congress and the general assembly.

Miss LaVine Moore will present to the club the deed to a plot of ground in Gwinnett county, where the club hopes to establish a camp. This will be the club's third campsite, the others being in Rabun and Cobb counties.

The oldest member of the freshman class at Agnes Scott is a grandmother with six children and five grandchildren. She is Mrs. O. L. Cloud, of Hamlet, N. C., who registered this term at the Decatur institution.

Mrs. Cloud does oils from still life and has many finished canvases in her studio at the college. She uses flowers from her own garden for her models. She plans to take up sculpturing after Christmas and plans are now under way for an exhibit in the spring.

The former Miss Elizabeth Mable, the daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Joel Mable, of Atlanta, the "freshman" is a graduate of Girls' High school. She devoted the earlier days of her life to her family.

TWO 'BUG WRITERS' GET GANG TERMS

One Had Attempted to Start Policeman in Business.

A "bug writer" who tried to set up a city policeman in the lottery business received a four-month chain gang sentence in Fulton criminal court yesterday after he had pleaded not guilty to lottery charges.

City Policeman W. G. Densmore testified that Charles Wade, negro, had promised to get him a job as a writer and had acquired him a writer's book and number before Densmore arrested him. Densmore was a special agent in the solicitor's office at the time.

In another case, a jury found Ed Johnson, negro pick-up man, guilty on lottery charges. Judge Jesse M. Wood sentenced him to 12 months on the chain gang.

In his statement to the jury Johnson said, "I oughta know better while the heat was on."
